

NEW DEAL CRUSHED IN IDAHO VOTE

Hopes For New Junior College Are Blasted

UNION PLAN ABANDONED

Burial of the present activity to promote a $1,200,000 junior college for Southern Orange county was made at a committee meeting last night of trustees of school districts, when a motion was passed to have the Santa Ana school district go ahead with their own plans. No agreement was reached on the formation of a union junior college district.

George Wells, president of the Santa Ana school district, touched off the final bomb that at least temporarily halted the action started by the Orange County Coast association when he read a telegram from J. W. Bournier, acting regional PWA director, which set October 1, 1938, as the dead line for the voting of a bond issue in support of the move.

No Cooperation
Promises of co-operation in forming a union junior college district went glimmering when representatives of Tustin, Huntington Beach, Orange, and Garden Grove, reported that sentiment in their districts was in favor of a union district only if they had geographical representation in the district.

It was pointed out that a change in state legislation would be necessary to meet the request of the districts.

Coast districts reported that sentiment in their areas was highly favorable to the union district formation and would circulate petitions to that effect. Here it was stated that only those districts contiguous to the existing district could join and the action of the coast areas depended on that of the inland area.

Time Too Short
In presenting the communication form PWA officials, Wells pointed out it was virtually impossible to form a junior college district and vote a bond issue before October 1.

"As I see it," Wells said, "the next step is for the Santa Ana district to go ahead with their own plans and ascertain the sentiment of the present district on the floating of a bond issue."

PENSION PLAN FATE RESTS WITH COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—(UP)—The state supreme court today considered a plan to give every Californian 50 years of age or over a pension of $30 every Thursday.

It was a warrant pension plan under which the warrants are redeemed at full face value with real money after the proper number of stamps are affixed, and the controversy it has caused since it is the hottest coal in the current California political fire.

Hundreds of thousands of persons are for it and have signed petitions to have it placed before the voters on the November ballot. They call it "Ham and eggs for California."

Hundreds of thousands are opposed to it and have signed petitions declaring it to be illegal, unconstitutional and a plan which will bring economic chaos.

The two camps faced each other in the chambers of the supreme court with batteries of lawyers armed with bulky briefs. Headquarters of the pension group announced that hundreds of persons had expressed a wish to hear the arguments, but the court chambers provide seats for only 100 persons. The others had to content themselves with places in the street.

Carroll On Stand In Own Defense

SOUTH PARIS, Me., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Former Deputy Sheriff Francis M. Carroll, testified today in his own defense at his trial on a charge of murdering a country doctor that prior to his arrest he had no knowledge of letters purportedly written by his 17 year old daughter Barbara, accusing him of violating her.

The state contends that Carroll's desire to obtain such letters which Barbara had written to her sweetheart, Paul (Buddy) Dwyer, indirectly motivated the slaying of Dr. James G. Littlefield.

Carroll admitted ownership of a cigarette lighter found at the murder scene—Dwyer's home—but said he had seen it on the sheriff's desk before the slaying.

The ousted law officer was called to testify as his own first witness immediately after his counsel, Clyde R. Chapman, delivered a 25 minute opening statement to the jury.

Former Santa Ana Pastor Regains Sight Through Dead Woman's Eyes

The eyes of Mrs. Margaret Carr, who died July 31, today gave sight to a former Santa Ana man in San Francisco.

In a delicate operation, living cornea removed from Mrs. Carr's eyes immediately after her death, were transplanted to the sightless eyes of the Rev. U. E. Harding of Portland, Ore., and formerly of this city, according to word received here today.

When surgeons, who asked that their names remain unknown, removed the bandages from the Rev. Harding's eyes, he said:

"I can see. I can see your hand. I can count your fingers. I see colors. I know what you look like. Tears came to his new eyes. He had been blind 42 years, and he had long sought some one who would help him see."

Daughter Happy
Up in Portland, a nine-year-old girl laughed happily. She was Harding's daughter, whom he had never seen, and she said, "Now my daddy can see me."

The Rev. Mr. Harding will remain in the hospital for another week, then he will go back into the world assured of partial, if not complete, sight. Harding will return to his pulpit in the Nazareth church.

The ophthalmologists who performed the operation said that in the seven transplantations in which cornea tissues from dead persons had been used, only these two operations might be classified as successes.

"Of especial interest," said one of the physicians, "is that the corneas came from the eyes of an 80 year old woman, yet brought sight to a middle-aged man. But we cannot say that such operations are successful. That's why we prefer to remain unknown. It might injure the public if we received publicity for these operations cannot be guaranteed."

Harding had made several public appeals for corneas, and visited condemned men in San Quentin prison's death row in the hope of securing a "martyr" funeral for Wenzel Bayerle, a party member who was stabbed to death in a bar room fight, as the latest symbol of their complaints against the Czechs.

But coincidental arrangements were made for the first direct negotiations between the government and Sudeten party leaders, with Viscount Runciman, British government "adviser," probably sitting in as mediator.

The prospect of negotiations, with Runciman's cooperation, was so heartening that despite the anger roused by Bayerle's death, the atmosphere seemed to have improved materially.

Fair Theme Girl Bemoans Loss Of Legs In Ruling

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Zoe Dell Lantis, widely publicized theme girl of the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition bemoaned the "loss" of her legs today.

"This is the unkindest cut of all," she said in reference to a ruling by the fair's board of management that so-called "leg pictures" of Miss Lantis be banned in favor of photos showing construction work on the fair site.

"I'm not going to take this sitting down," she said, "I've got a good pair of legs and I intend to stand up on them in a protest against the board's action."

Loyalists Forces Cut Main Highway

BARCELONA, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Loyalist forces cut the main highway between Balaguer and Lerida in a surprise offensive today which threatened Nationalist communications along the western Catalan border.

Crossing the Segre river west of Valldigna and south of Balaguer, Loyalist columns cut the highway and the Tremens-Balaguer railroad and established bridgeheads.

Barcelona reports said the advance took the Nationalists completely by surprise. It was preceded by heavy artillery barrages. Loyalists said the enemy retreated in disorder. Several contingents were surrounded on the east bank. Many prisoners were taken.

Sudeten Planning "Martyr" Funeral

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Sudeten German leaders prepared a "martyr" funeral today for Wenzel Bayerle, a party member who was stabbed to death in a bar room fight, as the latest symbol of their complaints against the Czechs.

But coincidental arrangements were made for the first direct negotiations between the government and Sudeten party leaders, with Viscount Runciman, British government "adviser," probably sitting in as mediator.

The prospect of negotiations, with Runciman's cooperation, was so heartening that despite the anger roused by Bayerle's death, the atmosphere seemed to have improved materially.

Mexican Soldiers Hunt For Cedillo

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Soldiers searched the hills near El Guajal Monday today for Gen. Saturnino Cedillo, rebel leader of San Luis Potosi, after a skirmish last night in which his aide, Prisco Martinez, was wounded and captured.

The department of national defense announced that a platoon of soldiers encountered Cedillo and seven of his men in the Ciudad del Maiz district. All escaped except Martinez who was taken to Ciudad del Maiz.

Poundmaster Dies

BERKELEY, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Pete Rogers, Berkeley's poundmaster for 23 years, famous because he used a lasso instead of a net to catch stray dogs, was dead today after a long illness. He was 68.

FDR "PURGE" ANTICIPATED

BULLETIN
WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Aug. 10.—(UP)—President Roosevelt is prepared to endorse the senatorial candidacy of Lawrence S. Camp in the Georgia Democratic primary of September 14 and "crack down hard" on Sen. Walter F. George, who seeks renomination, in a speech at Barnesville tomorrow, it was learned authoritatively today.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Aug. 10.—President Roosevelt came back to the "little white house" today and immediately plunged into the turbulent Georgia political situation. He summoned Gov. E. D. Rivers and Lawrence Camp, who is espousing the New Deal in a bitter senatorial campaign, here for a conference.

Camp is opposing Walter E. George for the Democratic nomination. George opposed several major administration measures during the last session of congress and drew the ire of New Dealers.

The president reached Warm Springs at 9 a. m., EST, from Pensacola, Fla., where he disembarked late yesterday after a sea-going vacation of three weeks.

Mr. Roosevelt immediately called the conference with Rivers and Camp.

Observers believed that from the discussion might come an indication of how far the president will go in speeches tomorrow in giving a verbal "pat on the back" to Camp and at the same time, state the case of the administration on these social reform measures which George opposed.

The other two candidates in the senatorial race, former Gov. Eugene Talmadge, rabid anti-New Dealer, and William G. McRae, Townsend old age pensioner, are given only outside chances to win.

Crowd Present
A crowd of several hundred persons met Mr. Roosevelt when he arrived at the foundation.

The president got behind the wheel of his blue open touring car and sat bareheaded under a blazing sun.

He will remain in Warm Springs until early tomorrow when he will enroute for Athens, Ga., to receive an honorary degree from the University of Georgia. Later tomorrow he will go to Barnesville, Ga., to open a rural electrification development.

Should the president decide to openly endorse Camp and ignore George, he is expected to do so at Barnesville.

George incurred White House displeasure by bucking the supreme court plan, wages and hours and other administration measures.

May Be Lenient
Some political observers believe that Mr. Roosevelt would not crack down too hard on George in view of the possibility of creating a party division that might work to the advantage of Talmadge who in 1936 vigorously campaigned against the president.

From Georgia tomorrow he will head into South Carolina where another hot primary contest awaits his attention. There Senator Ellison (Cotton Ed) Smith is seeking renomination. Smith is seeking odds with the administration, is opposed by Governor Olin Johnston who announced his candidacy as a 100 per cent Roosevelt man from the White House steps.

The president will deliver a back platform address in the state probably at Greenville, although Spartanburg it was understood, is still under consideration.

As he progressed by easy stages toward Washington where he is to arrive Friday morning, Mr. Roosevelt refrained from comment on the domestic and international situations although he did refer to the victory of Sen. Alben W. Barkley in Kentucky over Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler in a press conference. He asserted that this outcome had been what he had expected.

Use Of Baseball Bats Described

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Two hundred baseball bats for use in "roughing" victims who revolted against union dictatorship, were kept at headquarters of the local teamsters' union, Paul McKnight, self-admitted member of a "good squad" testified today.

Nine officials and organizers of the union are on trial accused of felonious assault for terroristic methods. McKnight was originally a co-defendant, but yesterday pleaded guilty and turned state's evidence.

Non-union men, members of the CIO and even their own members of the teamsters union, were victims in a series of attacks, McKnight testified. He related two occasions when members of the union who opposed views of the majority, had been set upon by "goons" at the order of Dexter L. Lewis, president of the local.

Slayer Of Wife Is Captured

SHELTON, Wash., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Police today captured Bernard R. Leuch, 40 year old convicted wife slayer and former St. Cloud, Minn., police officer, under the home of relatives who notified authorities of his presence.

Leuch escaped from the Mason county jail, where he had been held pending setting of the date of execution, Sunday night.

Three Shelton police officers, state patrolmen and sheriff's officers took Leuch into custody. He did not resist arrest. He was immediately removed to Mason county jail.

Names of the relatives who reported his whereabouts were not immediately learned. Sheriff's deputies said he was hiding under the house, situated in the Hillcrest residential district.

Leuch was convicted last July 21 of fatally shooting his wife, Lena, June 1. Mrs. Leuch was the mother of seven children.

Brawl Results In Sailor's Death

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Police today sought two unidentified sailors involved in a street brawl late last night which resulted in the death of Charles Hunt, 42, chief machinist mate attached to U. S. S. Perry.

Hunt died at the naval hospital from a fractured skull suffered when he was knocked to the pavement by one of two sailors who were accompanying him while walking in downtown San Diego, police said.

Witnesses said the three suddenly became involved in a heated argument at a street corner, and that one of the men fell Hunt's head hit the pavement and he died two hours later without regaining consciousness.

Police said the two fled north in a light roadster, cracked.

Steel Corporation Hits Labor Board

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Republic Steel corporation attacked constitutionality of the National Labor Relations board's administration of the Wagner act today and asserted a right to state its opinions of the purposes, aims and nature of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

The charges were made in 618 exceptions and a 136-page brief opposing a proposed decision by the board against the company, in preparation for oral argument before the board tomorrow. The exceptions attacked almost every section of the proposed order which finds Tom W. Girdler's company guilty of violating the Wagner act during last year's little steel strike.

EARTHQUAKE IN ECUADOR

QUITO, Ecuador, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Severe earthquakes rocked the capital last night and early today. Thousands of residents fled to hills and public squares. No casualties were reported.

It was estimated that 20,000 passed through the streets carrying sacred images and praying aloud for the city's safety. Twelve shocks were recorded.

At dawn the population was still camped in the public squares and open places.

The walls of many houses were cracked.

JAPANESE AND RUSSIANS IN MAJOR BATTLE ON FRONTIER

TOKYO, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Japanese and Russian troops hastily entrenched themselves on a five mile front along the Siberian frontier today after an 11-hour battle in which Japanese asserted that they repulsed repeated Russian attacks with heavy losses.

SOVIET PARLIAMENT IN SESSION TODAY

MOSCOW, Aug. 10.—(UP)—The new supreme soviet of the U. S. S. R. (Russian parliament) began its second session today in a militant atmosphere sharpened by fresh press attacks on Japan.

Delegates of the 11 union republics were warned by the newspaper Pravda, organ of the Communist party, to keep Russia's powder dry.

"The second session of the supreme soviet begins work in an extremely responsible moment," Pravda said. "We do not want war, but we are ready for war. The international situation obliges us to keep our powder dry."

The Japanese militarists, who attempted to draw Japan into war with the U. S. S. R., made an attack upon soviet territory. The Japanese militarists have received an edifying lesson from the glorious red army.

With profound joy the people learned that the Japanese military adventures have been thrown out of soviet territory... but we have no guarantee that they will not repeat their attack."

The two chambers of the supreme soviet, the council of nationalities and the council of the union, met briefly in separate sessions in preparation for a joint session tonight at which more than 10,000 delegates will be present.

Farmers, military leaders, industrial workers, secret police heads and men and women representing all spheres of the soviet regime met as the soviet faced the most critical military situation since the revolution.

Close Fighting

This afternoon they began exchanging a brisk bombardment of hand grenades, which they were able to throw into each others' trenches. Army authorities here said that Japanese casualties in the exchange were light because the Russians could not throw accurately. The Japanese play baseball.

The new trench line, the first, it was indicated, in the new series of frontier clashes, extended from Hill 52 northwestward to Changkufeng.

Japanese dispatches said that Russians were massing on the Hailuifeng sector but that because the terrain was marshy there and unsuited for trench warfare, they had to bring up their troops along a route which

$150,000 Houston Estate Plea Filed

Letters of administration for the estate of the late Samuel S. Houston of Fullerton, who died July 31, were sought today by his widow, Mrs. Mazie Smith Houston, and a nephew, W. E. Tate, both of Fullerton, when they filed necessary petition in superior court. Mr. Houston left an estate of $150,000, although he failed to leave a will, the petition stated.

Mr. Houston left 17 heirs to the estate, it was revealed, including two brothers, J. D. Houston of Fullerton and J. E. Houston of Kingman, Kansas. All other heirs excepting a nephew, Raymond S. Houston, Fullerton, live in the mid-west. The heirs include four nephews, five nieces, two half-sisters and three half-brothers.

Gardner Estate Set At $25,000

Mrs. Addie H. Gardner, widow of the late Arthur B. Gardner, vice principal of Santa Ana high school until his death from a heart ailment August 6, today filed a petition in superior court, stating her husband's estate, consisting of real estate, notes, stocks and cash, does not exceed $25,000.

On June 9, Mrs. Gardner said, her husband wrote the will himself, leaving the entire estate to her.

POPE BEATEN IN PRIMARY

BULLETIN
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Gov. Martin L. Davey today conceded the Democratic nomination for Ohio governor to his opponent in Tuesday's primary election, Charles Sawyer of Cincinnati.

BOISE, Ida., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Rep. D. Worth Clark, conservative who has been cool toward the Roosevelt administration, scored a startling upset victory over New Deal backed Sen. James P. Pope for the Democratic senatorial nomination on the basis of late returns from yesterday's primary election.

F. D. R. Supporter
Pope, who went to the senate in the 1932 Democratic landslide and who has been an unequalled supporter of President Roosevelt's policies, conceded the nomination to his youthful opponent as latest unofficial reports gave Clark a lead of nearly 3500 votes.

Returns from 590 of Idaho's 738 precincts gave:
Clark $35,532,
Pope, 32,069.

Pope's defeat was believed caused by the switch of thousands of Republicans to the Democratic ballot in yesterday's voting in an unorganized but substantial movement to remove the New Deal senator from office.

Pope said he conceded the election "after careful deliberation."

Gov. Barzilla W. Clark sent his congratulations to former Gov. C. Ben Ross, conceding the Democratic gubernatorial nomination as late returns gave Ross a lead of nearly 2000 votes. The advantage had alternated between the two since the polls closed last night and at one time this morning the governor had a lead of approximately 2000 votes.

Returns from 650 precincts gave:
Ross, 24,332,
Clark, 22,987.

Bulkeley Is Winner In Ohio Primary

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 10.—(UP)—U. S. Senator Robert J. Bulkeley, democratic incumbent, and Robert A. Taft, Republican son of the late president, apparently had been nominated for the senatorial office today, but Ohio voters still were uncertain of the Democratic nominee for governor.

COUNTY TAX RATE WILL RUN HIGHER

Advance indication that the new county budget and tax rate will be higher than last year was given at yesterday's meeting of the county supervisors, when Supervisor N. E. West, of Laguna Beach announced that he would vote against the proposed budget, because it meant a tax rate about 17 cents too high, in his opinion.

A budget summary before the board yesterday shows a proposed total, inside of cities, amounting to $1,928,577, to be raised by local taxation, as compared to $1,490,702 last year. This indicated a tax rate of $1.02 inside of cities as compared to 83 cents last year.

The outside road tax would be two cents, the same as last year. The county library tax rate, not included in the county rate, is tentatively set at 2 cents instead of 3, as last year. The welfare rate for the new year is tentatively 33 cents, an increase of 3 cents over last year's rate.

The budget and tax rate remain to be officially determined later this month, the law requiring the tax rate to be fixed by September 1.

COUNTY PLEA FOR FLOOD FUND STILL PENDING

TIME OF ACTION NOT INDICATED

Orange county's application to the state for a share of flood protection money from the state's $5,000,000 emergency fund, still is pending before the state director of finance, according to word received by the county supervisors yesterday through the Placencia Mutual Orange association.

The association had wired Governor Frank F. Merriam in Sacramento, and obtained that reply from the governor, with no indication as to when action on the county's request may be expected.

Reports Exchange

Supervisor Harry D. Riley, of Anaheim, reported the exchange of messages. The governor merely notified the Placencia association that the supervisors would be notified as soon as an allocation is made.

Very little has been done about distributing the $5,000,000 fund authorized by the state legislature in passing a bill introduced by Assemblyman Thomas Kuebel, of Orange county, according to Supervisor Riley. Most of the fund remains in the state treasury, he said.

Report Forthcoming

Orange county's request was filed March 2. Several weeks ago, officials made a trip to the state capital to learn when the state would act on it. They were informed that the state engineer's report would be presented to the governor that week, with a recommendation concerning Orange county's allocation.

Nothing more was heard of the matter until the Placencia association queried the governor.

G. O. P. Ready to 'GOPlaces'

A fighting-mad elephant bearing the inscription "Let's GOPlaces" symbolized the general spirit as the Republican program committee opened its unique "summer school" at which national problems were to be studied and steps taken toward drafting a program to "guide" the national committee. William Hard, secretary of the program committee, Dr. Glenn Frank, chairman, and National Committee Chairman John D. M. Hamilton are pictured, left to right, with the emblem, as the sessions opened on the Chicago campus of Northwestern University.

UNUSUAL POINTS OF LAW ARE REVEALED BY WEST FOR CLUB

Unusual yet important legal opinions which have formed the basis for much California law were discussed by Franklin G. West, well-known local attorney, when 20-30 club members met in Danagers cafe last night.

Highlights of early California legal history indicated a most unusual kaleidoscope of opinions, according to West. He illustrated his talk by citing numerous cases.

"In the 60's, Columbus, a city of about 30,000 people, petitioned the state assembly to make it the permanent capital of the state," the speaker declared. "With about 12,000 signatures, the petition was presented to the assembly. The petition was soon pigeon-holed."

Sentenced to Hang

Shortly afterward a man committed a crime for which he was sentenced to hang, West revealed. The defendant's attorney then took the original petition, tore off the top and presented it to the governor, asking pardon for his client.

"The unusual thing about it was that the governor pardoned the man," the speaker explained. "Probably the most interesting case in California's legal history concerned the question of whether a Chinese could testify against a white man, he said. It happened that a man had committed a murder in 1854 with his only witnesses being several Chinese. The contention raised by the defense was that no white man could be convicted on testimony of any man except a white person."

Defendant Released

"The statutes at that time stated that no Negro, mulatto, or Indian could testify against a white man," West explained. The decision finally handed down by the court was that a Negro was included among other races than that of the whites. Consequently the defendant was released.

"The decision of the court was purely social and political rather than legal on the premise that the supremacy of the white man must be maintained," was West's analysis of the case.

Other little known facts regarding early California laws were presented by the attorney to the large assembly of 20-30 members.

Na-well Vandermast presided as program chairman, while President Wylie Carle handled the regular meeting. Raymond Allen was formally initiated into the organization and presented with a pin by Clarence Sprague.

District Meeting

Vandermast announced that Congressman Harry R. Sheppard would address the group next Tuesday night. Members of other Orange county 20-30 clubs will be invited as guests. President Carlyle said, Plans were formulated to send a delegation to the district meeting which will be held tomorrow night in Long Beach. The delegation will be led by President Carlyle and Past-President James E. Walker. Herbert L. Hill is a candidate from the local club for the position of deputy district governor.

Preacher Escapes Wrath Of Court

Because the Rev. Joseph F. Ransom of Pasadena had a "substantial" excuse, he escaped a three-day term in county jail yesterday, city court records show. Charged with speeding 45 miles per hour in the 25-mile zone on Main at Cuyler last Saturday, the Rev. Mr. Ransom explained he was en route to San Diego to officiate at a funeral service and was late. Judge J. G. Mitchell suspended the jail term.

Donald Downing, Monrovia, and John B. Atwood, Upland, were fined $5 each yesterday after pleading guilty to charges of speeding.

The Spectator, a daily paper published two centuries ago, barred news from its pages as being unimportant.

COUNTY DENIES LAGUNA FUND

Request of Laguna Beach that the county assume part of its $51 per month expense for maintaining a direct wire connection with the county radio station, was refused by the county supervisors last yesterday. The refusal is expected to eliminate Laguna Beach from the county system of direct radio communication.

The county board held to its present policy of paying just half the cost of the direct lines to the various city police departments. The county and Laguna Beach each has been paying $51 per month for that city's line. The next highest rate is for the Newport Beach line, each paying $28 per month. Laguna Beach requested that its own rate be reduced to $25 per month, the county to shoulder the difference.

No "Second" Given

Supervisor N. E. West unofficially polled his fellow supervisors yesterday and found them opposed to a change of policy. At the suggestion of Chairman Willard Smith, in order to place the board of record, West moved that Laguna Beach's request be granted. There was no second for the motion. Laguna Beach, it is understood, will discontinue the direct line, because its cost is higher than that of other cities.

Balboa Classes Open Daily

Miss Margaret Glenn, chairman of the life saving service for the Santa Ana chapter, American Red Cross, announced today that junior and senior life saving classes are being conducted daily on Balboa island, and any swimmers interested may have this free instruction.

One class is held daily on the Little Island at Park avenue and East Bay Front from 11 to 12 a. m. Another class meets daily from 4 to 5 p. m. at Ruby street and North Bay.

"Sunny" Walker, a qualified Red Cross examiner, is the instructor of both classes. When the life savers have completed their course of instruction and are ready for examinations the tests will be given by three qualified chapter examiners. "This procedure is recommended by the national organization in order to assure well trained life savers," Miss Glenn stated.

Legion To Name Parley Delegates

Election of delegates to the department convention to be held at Santa Monica Sept. 15 and 16, and final nomination for officers of the post, will be held at the regular meeting of post 151, American Legion, at the hall tomorrow.

Jack Sullivan and Richard Kessler, post representatives to the Boys' State meeting in Sacramento recently, will make a report on the activity of the meeting, Kessler said.

Entertainment and refreshments will be provided.

S. A. Man Makes "Strike" Mistake

A local man who believed Santa Ana today was being made the scene of a new citrus or vegetable workers' strike, was mistaken, according to investigation of Officers F. L. Grouard and Burnette Lane.

The officers were called to West Third street at 7:45 a. m. today. The man said he saw a Mexican jump from an automobile in front of 1226 West third, run to a truck and climb on it. The officers reported the Mexican had parked his car and climbed on the truck, occupied by several other men, to go to work.

$10,000 FOR A HAT! THAT'S THE KIND ON DISPLAY IN S. A.

Ten thousand dollars for a hat . . . you might not give a dollar for such a hat . . . but again you might.

For the $10,000 hat, insured on a Fine Arts policy for exhibition purposes, now on display in the display window at Vandermast's Fourth and Sycamore streets, has traveled throughout the world and is autographed by scores of the world's most noted show people and others of prominence.

Rogers' Autograph
The late Will Rogers autographed the hat just before leaving on his fatal airplane trip with Wiley Post to Alaska. Rudolph Valentino signed his name on the hat at the time he was making "The Sheik". Marie Dressler, Jean Harlow, Calvin Coolidge, William Howard Taft, Charles G. Dawes, while vice president, General John Pershing, the late Warner Oland, "Charlie Chan" of movie fame; W. C. Fields, Robert Taylor—all have signed the hat, now 13 years old.

Other signers include Clark Gable, Ginger Rogers, the late Irving Thalberg, Norma Talmadge, Douglas Fairbanks sr., Mary Pickford, Harold Lloyd, Victor Moore—of stage and screen fame—Poodles Hanna, famous circus rider, Joan Crawford, the late Lon Chaney, Victor McLaglen, Mary Brian, Sally Blaine, Charlie Chaplin, George Bancroft, Sid Grauman, D. New Attack On State Indigent Problem Mapped At Conference

A new state-wide attack on the problem of the influx of indigents into California was prepared at a meeting of representatives of the county chambers of commerce and the Orange county farm bureau offices yesterday in which the responsibility for attracting indigents into California was placed with the state, and not with the federal government.

Recent activity by Kern county and Los Angeles county chambers of commerce has requested that federal action be taken to prevent the flood of indigents who have poured into California to take advantage of the highest old age pension in the nation.

Blame WPA Policies
The Orange county group yesterday held that the facility of receiving federal aid, either WPA or PWA in the state was responsible for the movement of indigents and that federal action would be of no assistance in the problem.

The minimum wage in California for federal work is 44 per month and a maximum of $96, it was pointed out, as compared with many states where the minimum was $19 per month and the maximum was $44.

Will Draft Findings
A motion to prepare a draft of the findings of the committee and submit it to the boards of directors of the interested groups as well as to Orange, Kern and Los Angeles county officials was passed.

The Santa Ana chamber of commerce will submit the draft at the regular meeting of the directors on Monday.

Included in the findings of the group were the facts that indigents during the first year of residence were eligible for transient aid; and during the next two years of residence they were eligible for federal aid in the state.

Members of the Santa Ana chamber committee present at the meeting included Chairman C. H. Holmes, W. C. Jerome, E. B. Sharpley, and James B. Utt. Others who attended the meeting included August Schumacher and C. H. Atwell, of Anaheim; Harry May, Fullerton; B. H. Latham, San Clemente; J. G. Dempsey and Joseph Hasmer, Los Alamitos; and C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the Orange county farm bureau.

Charles Dunstan Called By Death

Death as the result of a heart attack came suddenly to Charles E. Dunstan, 62, this morning at his residence at 206 North Ross street.

Born in Essex, Ontario, Canada, Mr. Dunstan had been a resident of this country for the past 47 years, coming to Santa Ana seven years ago.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Maude Dunstan, and five sisters, Minnie, Louie, and Polly Dunstan, all of Winona, Miss.; Mrs. Ruth Whitehead, Jackson, Miss.; and Mrs. J. H. Hick, Inverness, Miss.

Funeral announcement will be made later by Winbiger funeral home.

Zoning For Manchester Seen

A zoning ordinance is in prospect for Manchester avenue at Buena Park but will not be effective in time to stop erection of a $45 vegetable stand by W. P. Dunlap, whose application for a permit was before the county supervisors late yesterday.

The county planning commission recommended rejection of the application, and Supervisor Harry D. Riley was anxious to do so, but the board as a whole agreed to do so, since the zoning ordinance was not yet established, there was no ground for refusing the requested permit. It was therefore approved.

HOLD AUXILIARY CEREMONY SEPT. 6

Making plans for a county wide installation of officers of American Legion auxiliaries at Huntington Beach September 6, members of the county council held an interesting session at Placentia yesterday, the meeting opening with an attractively appointed luncheon. The installation will take place in the Huntington Beach Legion hall at 8 p. m.

Announcement was made that the department president, Mrs. Pauline Ellison of Long Beach and the department commander, Joe Long of Riverside, will be present at the installation. Past presidents will be co-hostesses with the Huntington Beach members at the event.

Judge J. B. Tucker, of Santa Ana, was the luncheon speaker, talking on "Every Day Legal Problems." About 100 were present and Mrs. Vivian Nicodemus, of Brea, president of the Santa Ana auxiliary, presided. Mesdames Beulah Duckett, president of the Santa Ana auxiliary, Fannie Reeves, Edna Ecklund and Marion Matthews.

Painter Enters Not Guilty Plea

Ernest Myers, Santa Ana painter, today pleaded not guilty before Judge Kenneth E. Morrison in Santa Ana justice court when charged with violating Section 3700 of the labor compensation laws by failure to carry compensation insurance for his workmen.

Judge Morrison set trial for August 23 at 9 a. m. Myers was released on his own recognizance. Homer Welch was named as complaining witness against Myers.

JAILED AFTER FRACAS

Following report to police that 76-year-old Trinidad Garcia, 827 East Pine, assertedly was intoxicated and beating his wife, Lupe, Officers L. C. Rogers and Herman Stahl arrested him and booked him at county jail on a drunk charge. Mrs. Garcia said she would sign a complaint today, charging her husband with assault and battery.

GOOD LOOKS are a definite help in business, everyone realizes that by now. But it doesn't mean, necessarily that you have to be a breath-taking beauty to get along.

Good looks are more likely to be a matter of being carefully put together. You may have brains, efficiency, a heart of gold but if your hair just "misses" or your nose beams your potential employer will be less likely to discover your "sterling qualities."

1938 SEAL SALE GROUP NAMED

Homer C. Chaney, president of the board of directors of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association, today announced the appointment of the 1938 Christmas Seal Campaign committee.

The new appointees include Dr. H. H. Neville, Anaheim; Mrs. Oliver Wickersheim, Orange; Mrs. W. Maxwell Burke and Mrs. Ernest C. Phillips, Santa Ana; Mrs. Albert Sparks, Costa Mesa, and Mrs. Jack Colvin, Huntington Beach.

Has Responsibility
Details of the mail sale, early order, personal solicitation, newspaper publicity, radio programs, school participation, scheduling of motion pictures and members of speakers bureau and booth sales will be the responsibility of this campaign committee.

The new sound film "Let My People Live," purchased by the association, was reported shown six times in July to audiences numbering over 250. The following groups were reached: Works Progress Administration project, inmates of the county jail, Mexican population of Stanton and the congregation of the Johnson Chapel, Santa Ana.

Thirty Served
The Friday afternoon chest clinic conducted by the tuberculosis association with Waldo S. Wehry, M. D., Santa Ana specialist as clinician, served 30 people during July. Residents of Anaheim, Costa Mesa, Fullerton, Huntington Beach, Laguna Beach, La Habra, Orange, Santa Ana, Westminster and Yorba Linda were among those asking for an examination for tuberculosis, a communicable disease and the biggest killer in the age groups, 15 to 45 years of age.

Disturber Flees
A man who assertedly created a disturbance at the cafe at 718 East Fourth street at 1:45 a. m. today was sought unsuccessfully by Officers J. W. Foster and Roy Hartley. Frank Italiano, who called police, reported the man came to the cafe, left his purse on the counter, then noisily claimed someone had removed some money from it. Italiano said the man was drunk. The man had fled before the officers appeared.

Salesman Criticized
An assertedly over-zealous magazine salesman whose persistence was distasteful yesterday, was warned to "slow down a bit" when Officer F. L. Grouard contacted him. Mrs. R. W. Crist, 1902 South Birch, said the man, John Anding of Long Beach, told her was working his way through college and was so persistent in his attempt to get inside of her home, she was forced to shove him outside. Anding said he was working here with a four-man sales crew.

OFFICERS PATROL DISTRICTS TO CHECK STRIKE PROGRESS

While no violence was reported today in connection with the strike of Mexican field workers for an increase in wages from 25 cents to 30 cents, sheriff's officers were patrolling in the San Juan Capistrano, Stanton and Paularino districts, it was announced.

At 6:50 a. m. today, officers were called by R. S. Miranda, Stanton, to investigate Miranda's report that strikers were picketing workers on West Katella road.

Urged to Quit
The officers said the strikers were urging workers to quit their jobs and demand a 30-cent hourly wage, that some of the workers did quit today in the Stanton district.

Following a meeting of Mexicans at San Juan Capistrano last night, 11 of 25 tomato pickers on the Japanese ranch in Governor's canyon, above San Juan Capistrano, quit their jobs today, according to information given Sheriff Logan Jackson.

Tells of Threat
Yesterday afternoon, Chief Criminal Deputy Merle Dean and Deputy Steve Duhart were called to the Paularino district along Baker street by Owen Song, rancher. He said strikers had been urging Joe Flores, only Mexican worker for him, to quit his job. Song employs several Americans as well, but they were not contacted by the strikers. Flores, according to the investigation, was told he "had better quit or you might get beat up."

"I have been paying my workers 30 cents per hour all of the time during the recent trouble," Song said. "I don't want trouble so I'm letting Flores go and replacing him with an American."

New Deal Crushed In Idaho Primary

avored by President Roosevelt, held almost a 2 to 1 lead over former Governor George White for the Democratic nomination.

Taft was leading Judge Arthur H. Day of the Ohio supreme court by a substantial margin.

The question still undecided was whether Gov. Martin L. Davey, who took a campaign stand against John L. Lewis and the Committee for Industrial Organization, had been renominated.

Almost every tabulation brought Gov. Davey and Charles Sawyer, Democratic national committee, closer in the counting of votes.

In 1938 of the state's 8661 precincts, the vote stood: Davey 394, 627; Sawyer 400,401.

Sawyer followers predicted their candidate would gain on late returns from the larger counties. He was leading in seven of the eight large counties.

Nebraska Governor Again Nominated
OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Gov. R. L. Cochran, seeking to become Nebraska's first chief executive to hold the office a third time, apparently was assured of renomination on the Democratic ticket today.

Returns from yesterday's primary gave him a commanding lead over four opponents. His margin increased steadily as tabulating progressed.

Charles J. Warner, speaker of the unicameral legislature, appeared certain of winning nomination as the Republican candidate. He had three opponents, all of whom trailed by several thousand votes.

Since there was no sensational contest in Nebraska, the governor's and congressional races were the chief interest.

The four incumbent Democratic congressmen opposed for renomination led their opponents by comfortable margins in first returns.

Hattie Caraway's Lead Is Slashed

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 10.—(UP)—The lead of Hattie W. Caraway, seeking renomination to the senate, over Rep. John L. McClellan was cut to less than 5000 votes today as late returns were counted from yesterday's Democratic primary.

Returns from 1823 of the state's 2135 precincts gave:
Caraway 85,851.
McClellan 81,031.
J. R. Venable 2008.

CLUB TOLD OF EYE PROGRAM

A plea for legislation that would establish a course to teach children to see was made today at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Kiwanis club by Dr. Louis Jacques, of Los Angeles.

"A child of four, five and even six and seven years of age has not yet properly developed his seeing mechanism to the point that he is ready to learn to read," Dr. Jacques said. "Eye spectacles have now worked out a definite program of teaching children to see and it is their wish that the subject be entered in the regular school curriculum and not taught in a health department."

Dr. Jacques also predicted that within the next two years legislation would be passed that would increase the tests for a driver's license to provide an accurate check to determine side vision of an applicant. He presented a series of illustrated slides covering prenatal and postnatal development of the eye.

E. A. B. Smith was program chairman for the day and introduced the speaker.

Women To Honor Gov. Merriam

Members of the Orange County Women's Division of the Southern California Merriam for Governor campaign, have issued invitations for a large county-wide garden party to be given on Tuesday afternoon, August 16, at the home of Mrs. Sam Kraemer Jr., Kraemer and Chapman avenues, in Placentia, from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Governor and Mrs. Frank F. Merriam will be honor guests at the affair which is to be informal, and their friends are extended an invitation to attend the party and enjoy the program of speeches and music. Other guests of honor will include Mrs. Charles Crail of Los Angeles, chairman of the Woman's Division of Southern California; Mrs. Charles F. Van de Water of Long Beach, national Republican committee-woman; Mrs. W. D. Guthrie of Santa Ana, sister of the governor; Justus F. Craemer of Orange, chairman of the Republican State Central committee; Howard Irwin of Fullerton, chairman of the Southern California Republican committee; Mayor F. C. Rowland of Santa Ana, chairman of the Orange County Merriam for Governor committee; Thomas H. Kuchel of Anaheim, representative of the 75th assembly district and others.

G.O.P. Declared Friend Of Labor

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 10.—(UP)—Chairman John Hamilton of the Republican National committee charged today the New Deal in order to perpetuate itself in power is fostering the impression that the GOP is an enemy of labor. He addressed a statewide rally of Republican women.

The Republican party, he said, is a friend of labor and has been responsible for much of the advancement of labor's cause.

"It is the New Deal contention that only the Democratic party is the friend of labor; that only the Democratic party has sponsored legislation improving the lot of the men and women who labor in factory and shop," he said.

"It is also the untrue contention that the Republican party is the friend only of big business and economic royalists, and in fact has done all it can to suppress labor. Actually, this is a bogeyman set up by the New Deal to divert attention from its failure to restore some 12,000,000 or more unemployed persons in this country to jobs in private industry."

Japanese, Russians In Major Battle

the Japanese commanded. The Japanese permitted the Russians to advance unmolested, it was asserted, because they did not want to violate Russian territory.

Two battalions of Russian troops, perhaps 2000 men, attacked the Japanese lines at Changkufeng, key to the frontier situation, at 8 o'clock last night.

Fighting continued until 7 a. m. today. The Russians, their first infantry attack thrown back despite an artillery barrage which prepared for it, brought tanks and mountain guns into action in the early hours of this morning, it was asserted.

Repeated Russian attacks were thrown back, it was asserted, and the Russians took a breathing spell after a final attack by infantry using hand grenades.

During the morning, communiques said, 45 Russian airplanes subjected frontier towns, including Kojlo and Keiko in Korea, to punishing bombardments but were driven off by Japanese anti-aircraft gun fire.

BOY HELD AFTER CRASH

An Anaheim boy was turned over to juvenile authorities here this afternoon after he and two companions were caught at the end of a chase of several blocks in which police cars, a sheriff's car and a motorcycle officer figured. The chase came after the auto the boy was driving collided with a car on North Flower street driven by William McCulloch of Balboa, and then struck a tree. The boys leaped from the car and ran after the mishap. Two of the boys were released.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 10.—Search for oil will be made in a wildcat well that is to be drilled on the Harriman acreage about a half mile off Huntington Beach boulevard and a quarter of a mile south of Talbert Road.

Warren Harold, production foreman of the Termo Oil company, and Gene Reed, building superintendent of the same company, will drill the well. The derrick is now being finished and will soon be equipped for drilling. The property lies adjacent to the skeet club lease.

Riley Studies Housing Work

Having toured other southern counties for purposes of investigation, Supervisor Harry D. Riley yesterday advised the county board that Los Angeles county is the only one proceeding with establishment of a housing authority, San Bernardino, Riverside, Ventura and Santa Barbara counties are studying the question, he said.

Riley expressed enthusiasm over the proposal for a housing authority, which the local board has been requested to establish. Los Angeles county, he said, has an organization of ten persons already at work, under direction of Melville Sozier Jr., who agreed, said Riley, to come to Orange county and discuss the work with the supervisors.

for the drawing of plans is concerned I do not feel that it is a loss since the architects performed their part of the contract and we now have the plans in readiness," Wells said.

The committee reporting on a possible site for the construction of the junior college recommended that an impartial authority make the recommendation for the site and suggested that the state department of education act as the agent for the recommendation.

Man Buys Meat To Poison Dogs

The remark of a resident of Route 1, Santa Ana, that he was buying meat to be used to poison dogs in his neighborhood, sent Santa Ana police on an investigation yesterday. Tracing the man through the license number of the car he was using after a Santa Ana man reported over-hearing the man's remark, the officers questioned his wife. She explained many of their turkeys had been killed by the dogs and they have been attempting to stop the destruction.

WILLYS SALES HIT NEW HIGH DURING JULY

Willys sales have attained a new high for the year during this last month, according to H. C. Collins, local distributor for Hudson-Terraplane and Willys cars. "The half the gas economy" car is proving extremely popular with drivers in this vicinity," Collins said today.

"Due to its new features, including a heavier frame, changes in the transmission making it more efficient at low speeds, and its all around low operating cost it offers the greatest bargain in the low price field," he stated.

Years of Experience

Seventeen years of experience are behind the judgment of Collins in his selection of Willys as the "coming" car for 1939. He first started in Santa Ana in 1921, operating an auto repair shop. Later he obtained the agency for Hudson-Terraplane, and last October accepted the exclusive market for Willys, which, he explains, "is improving all the time."

Collins operates a garage at 113 North Sycamore street, where a staff of experienced mechanics is maintained to give individual attention to every car.

"Nothing is left to guesswork," said Collins. "Our new, model electrical appliance machines make an accurate test of every electrically controlled working part of any make machine."

"Possessing the only tachometer in this vicinity," Collins explains, "it not only makes an accurate timing but checks and corrects lubrication defects."

"Business has been so good that we have been doing little beyond servicing the cars we sell," said Collins, "but our modern facilities are of the immediate disposal of the public, and we will spare no effort to give Santa Ana a completely equipped garage where service is the keynote."

Graham-Bradley Tractor Proves Farm Attraction

Graham-Bradley tractors are literally taking farmers off their feet in the middle-west, reports E. J. Harrington, sales manager of the tractor division of Graham-Bradley Corporation, following a trip through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Michigan.

"In all of these states," said Harrington, "a great many farmers are still using the old-style iron wheel tractor with an iron seat. The operator stands up at his work rather than take the jouncing which the hard, un-sprung seat would give him."

"When such a farmer sees a Graham-Bradley tractor with its pneumatic tires being driven at 20 miles an hour by an operator on a cushioned seat who is steering with one hand and tuning his radio with the other, he can hardly believe his eyes."

"Dealers told me, and their statements were confirmed by owners themselves, that these tractors are invariably being worked well beyond their rated capacity. I saw one owner pulling four 14-inch plows out in Kansas, and on another farm a 10-foot combine was being operated by one of our tractors at what the owner said was the fastest and most economical rate he had ever experienced."

Chevrolet Sales Gain In State

In the first six months of 1938, sales in California for passenger cars totaled 68,667 units, according to Motor Registration News.

A total of 29 motor cars participated in the grand total, while Southern California residents purchasing 39,353 cars and Northern California buyers taking 30,038 units.

Of the state total, Chevrolet obtained 15,063 sales to lead the field by a commanding margin, according to Motor Registration News.

LOCAL SERVICE MAN HOLDS REPAIR BILLS ARE LOWER

Automobile repair bills aren't what they used to be claims Johnny Van Dyke, service manager of O. H. Haan, local Chrysler and Plymouth dealer. Van Dyke recalled that the service department of a new car dealer was at one time considered the dealer's best source of income.

"The way they build automobiles nowadays, the dealer's revenue from repair bills is a minor item," he commented. "One reason for the cutting down of heavy repair bills is that new car dealers are recognizing their responsibility as a maintenance and service agency."

"That is why," Van Dyke pointed out, "Chrysler and Plymouth dealers are equipped with the most modern and scientific factory equipment for low cost maintenance work. In the case of our own organization here in Santa Ana, the motto is 'after we sell we serve.'"

He added that most wise car owners now recognize the economic wisdom of bringing their cars into the service department for a thorough check-up at least twice a year.

"To insure carefree vacation driving and a minimum of worry over a mechanical breakdown, many of our friends are calling at our well-equipped maintenance department for a complete mechanical inspection before departing for their summer trip," Johnny added. "It costs little in either time or money to have the car carefully checked over and it may result in saving a lot of both."

"Cornell tires are always a popular feature at the local Pep Boys store, 211 North Main street, according to officials. Chevrolet also led in commercial car sales in the state for the first six months of 1938.

CAR INDUSTRY SEEKING LEVEL OF PRODUCTION

DETROIT—Just twice in its history has the motor car industry assembled more than five million units in one calendar year. Whether it ever again will reach the figures attained in 1929 and 1937 and if so when, appears to be the basis of no little differences of opinion among trade authorities, producers and distributors.

In 1923 the industry for the first time reached the four million annual output mark and the more optimistic among its production and sales executives spoke enthusiastically about a new "normal" for factory and salesroom activity.

Abnormal Level
Most of these authorities now are fairly well agreed the five million level is abnormal and will exceed retail absorption potentialities for some time to come.

There are many inside the automobile business who believe profitable operations for the future lie in a stabilization of production, based upon a normal replacement need that authorities agree is greater than the 2,500,000 units the assembly plants probably will deliver this year.

Market Growing
Against this is a considerable number of production and sales executives who assert the current lag in consumer demand is piling up a sizeable market for new cars, once buying power has been re-established.

These same sources assert that pressure for the setting up of some kind of a junking scheme is becoming more insistent from among the dealer organizations and the automobile market a year or two in the future is bound to be little more than the simplest form of conjecture.

OFF-STREET PARKING AREAS NEED IN MODERN BUSINESS

It is shortsighted policy to erect any building serving the buying public in an established business area without providing for automobile parking off the street.

With motor traffic steadily increasing toward the Automobile Club of Southern California's estimate of 2,155,000 vehicles in Los Angeles county within a dozen years, engineers of the motorists' organization declare that business firms must provide off-street parking space if they hope to survive.

Decentralization Sought
Curb park already is next to impossible in most business districts of Southland cities. Customers move on to more open shopping sections rather than make the strenuous effort to find parking places. Thus the decentralization of established business districts continues as trade seeks more convenient areas.

Modern Trend
Most of the thirty-two district offices of the organization in the population centers of Southern California are provided with adequate off-street parking areas. Those not so equipped are not yet faced with the problem of overcrowding, but paved parking regions for the convenience of members and motorists on business will be established adjacent to all new club office structures hereafter to take care of present or future needs.

This is in line with the modern trend reflected in parking lots adjoining food markets, department store parking buildings, validation of parking tickets for customers, and parking areas provided in the vicinity by businesses as theaters catering to a numerous clientele.

A principal factor making the development of off-street parking areas most essential is the growing tendency of city officials toward prohibiting on congested business streets during usual business hours.

OREGON COAST ROAD CURVES ELIMINATED

Elimination of many curves on U. S. Highway between Portland, Oregon, and the town of Rainier, near Longview bridge offers it as an alternate through route to northern points, suggests the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

While somewhat narrower and less heavily traveled than the comparable section of U. S. Highway 39 between Portland and Kelso, the two routes are approximately the same distance. Both roads have their scenic features. Payment of a toll is required, however, on Longview bridge which must be crossed by north-bound travel on U. S. 30.

PATROLMEN IN SCHOOL
Nineteen recruits to the California Highway Patrol now are attending a training school at Sacramento headquarters. They will receive 30 days of intensive training before being assigned to active duty.

Shell Oil Issues Monthly Paper

Shell News, a monthly tabloid newspaper, made its initial bow last week to the company's 9000 employees in ten Western states British Columbia and the Hawaiian Islands. It is a new medium selected for management employee expression.

Listed among major objectives of the publication, outlined in an editorial, signed by S. Belthier, president, are:

REPAIRS COMPLETED
Repairs have been completed at the washout of the Santa Ana river on the San Bernardino Redlands route via Mill street and Mountain View avenue and the road is now open, reports the touring bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

Road Congress To Meet In Chile

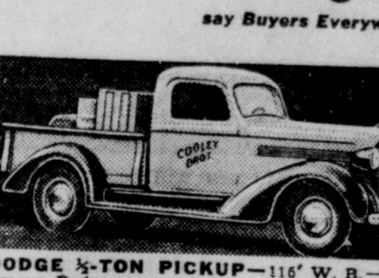

Elaborate preparations are being made in Santiago, the capital of Chile, for the third Pan-American Road Congress to be held here during the first two weeks in September of this year.

Chile is one of the most progressive of the South American republics in the development of its highway system and especially of its portion of the International Pacific and Pan-American highways, notes the Automobile Club of Southern California.

San Simeon-Carmel Scenic Highway Attracts Tourists

Excellent road conditions now prevail on the San Simeon scenic highway for the 130 miles from San Luis Obispo to Carmel, advises the San Luis Obispo office of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

This highly scenic route is narrow and more curving, for the most part, than United States highway 101. It is proving especially attractive to sight-seeing motor tourists rather than fast coastwise traffic. Drinking fountains and parking areas are found at convenient intervals on the new highway.

Good oiled or macadam surfacing is found throughout. A two-tenths oil-surfaced detour requiring low gear is provided around bridge construction $8.5 miles north of San Luis Obispo.

NO LIABILITY
The paved and oiled dirt tri-county road between Wheeler's Hot Springs and Cuyama valley via Ozena is under construction and motorists using it are required to sign a release, absolving the state highway department from liability in case of mishaps, the Automobile Club of Southern California touring bureau is advised.

General Grant National Park is open to travel at all hours. An entrance fee of $1 per car permits entry to either General Grant or Sequoia and driving the Generals Highway through both parks, advises the Automobile Club of Southern California touring bureau.

"QUESTION-MARK' BRAKES? NOT FOR ME!

That's Why I Bought a Hudson," says Edgar Egan, Denver, Colorado

ONCE you realize what it means to have brakes that are really safe . . . that you know will stop you every time . . . you'll never feel comfortable again with any other kind. Drive with Hudson Double-Safe Brakes and see!

There are no finer brakes than good hydraulics. And no hydraulics are finer than Hudson's . . . self-energizing 4-wheel Bendix hydraulics.

But what if the hydraulic fluid should leak away, through some accident or carelessness? It can happen with hydraulics of any type! Yet only Hudson has done the one thing necessary to take away that question mark—to make hydraulics the perfect brakes.

In a Hudson, the driver simply does the natural thing . . . presses the same foot pedal a little farther down. A separate mechanical reserve braking system takes hold automatically. He STOPS . . . safely, surely. Double-Safe Brakes!

There's still a third braking application from the easy acting parking brake.

But Hudson safety doesn't stop there. It gives you bodies all of steel. Greatest windshield width . . . clear vision all around. Safety plate glass. Up front . . . massive forged radial arms for safer steering and extra strength.

That's how Hudson does things . . . discovers the best and makes it better. Not only in safety but in roominess, performance, economy, long life and many other things that add to automobile value.

Drive today in a Hudson Terraplane, Hudson Six or Eight, or the new "low-priced" car, the Hudson 112, and see for yourself.

The PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

NEW YORK—Barney Ross had not a leg under him when Henry Armstrong hammered him into retirement not long ago. Lou Ambers has two good legs, and simple multiplication shows us that the Herkimer Hurricane should give the St. Louis Destroyer just twice as much trouble as Ross in their 15-round shindy at the Polo Grounds tonight.

But I fear that this will not be sufficient to keep Armstrong from becoming the first fighter in history to hold three world titles at the same time. Bob Fitzsimmons is the only warrior who ever wore three legitimate crowns but they adorned Ruby Robert's sparsely-thatched dome at intervals.

While scrappers who wade in like Armstrong have been Ambers' mutton in the past, the Negro mutton appears to be too strong for the product of upper-New York State bootleg rings. Armstrong should catch the agile Ambers about about the seventh session, but I doubt that he'll knock him out. Like Ambers, Armstrong punches too rapidly to be devastating. He socked a weary Ross with everything but the ring posts without once upsetting him.

TWO TITLES AT STAKE
They're betting 8 to 5 that Ambers doesn't go the route, however, . . . 3 to 1 that Armstrong wins.

Addicts are puzzled by their own sports pages today. For instance, they read of a half dozen world heavyweight wrestling champions. They have to spend beautiful Sunday afternoons moving the lawn because the ball club owner insists he's being rained into another Sunday double-header.

And now the New York commission ruling on the Ambers-Armstrong affair. Ambers is defending the lightweight leadership. Armstrong holds the welter and feather championships. But, although the boys are meeting at their natural weights, which is between 133 and 134 pounds each, the boxing board decided that Ambers would not be the devastating even though he poured ether on Armstrong.

That's silly, of course, and Ambers will be recognized as lightweight and welterweight champion everywhere outside of New York if he comes down in front.

COUNTER ATTRACTIONS
The show practically has been kept a secret to date. It is an anti-climax to the Armstrong-Ross and Louis-Schmeling engagements. The Saratoga race meeting is on. There are counter-attractions in the way of the $40,000 Hambleton at nearby Goshen and a night baseball game at Ebbets Field.

For these reasons, present indications are that the bout will be a foregone conclusion. Ambers is getting 37½ per cent, Armstrong 22½ because he isn't defending the 147-pound championship.

Ambers in the past generally has succeeded in making the other fellow fight his kind of fight. The Italian is a little Harry Greb . . . his style thoroughly unorthodox. He can't hurt anybody, but pumps annoying and cutting uppercuts with both fists when in close and then steps away to continue his flicking, as they say in England.

Ambers' biggest asset is a marvelous pair of legs, with which he hopes to untrack the charging Armstrong.

He'd better untrack Heartless Henry, for Ross and many others who couldn't, wished they could have him arrested, or something . . . for following them around.

SAN FRANCISCO OUSTS 'Dangerous' Sports
SAN FRANCISCO—(UP)—The San Francisco board of education today removed a number of "dangerous" sports from interclass competition and the physical education department activities at both junior and senior high schools.

Officials said interschool football and baseball would not be affected by the ruling although added precautions would be taken to prevent injury to students engaging in these sports.

The board's ruling followed a recent decision of the state supreme court upholding a $5000 judgment obtained against the city schools of Belva Bellman, a student injured in a tumbling class at Polytechnic high school.

Supt. J. P. Nourse recommended the discontinuance of "dangerous" sports and the board accepted the recommendations.

Also removed from the curriculum was all tumbling and apparatus work, all flying ring and springboard activities and all ladder work.

The board further ruled that "no weight events, such as javelin, shot put or discus, shall be permitted. Pole vaulting shall not be included in any regular physical training class activity."

Under the order, hard baseball may not be played as part of the school classes.

The ruling also said: "Tough tackle or tag football shall be eliminated from the junior high school course of study. In

If after Friday night's final games San Bernardino and Anaheim should be tied for second place in the National Night Ball league's standings, San Bernardino will be considered the No. 2 team and meet Santa Ana (No. 4) in the Shaughnessy playoffs.

This was decided by a flip of the coin today, with President Jimmie Heffron conducting the ceremonies for San Bernardino and Anaheim officials. The flip was considered necessary because in event of such a deadlock there would not be time for a play-off for second place. The Shaughnessy series begins Sunday night at Wrigley field, Los Angeles.

Anaheim Beats Hunt. Beach
Anaheim remained a full game ahead of San Bernardino last night by upsetting the league-leading Huntington Beach Oilers, 6-3, at Anaheim while San Bernardino was dimming the Stars of Santa Ana here, 2-0. Huntington Beach made three runs in the first of the first when Al Reblon smacked a home run from two aboard and Anaheim came right back in its half of the inning and made five runs by bunting hits and taking advantage of Oiler errors. Ted Neja's homer in the eighth completed Anaheim's scoring.

Those unpredictable Orange Cubs lashed out with a 16-hit attack, scoring nine runs in the sixth and eighth innings to turn defeat into a convincing 10-4 victory over Whittier.

Trailing 4-1 going into the sixth, Orange turned on the heat and made six runs. Ray Ambers' single to center brought in four runs when Outfielder Erreca let the leg go between his legs for a three-base error. Ballard's single had scored Walker and Hahn earlier in the frame. Whittier got two in the first and two in the fourth when they bunched hits. It was the final home game of the season for the Cubs.

Brea Wins on Two Hits
Although Pitchers Ira DeBusk and Ray Hodgson allowed Brea's only two hits yet the Lions tallied three runs on three walks, a passed ball and Johnson's single, and drove DeBusk to cover. Hodgson hurled perfect ball the rest of the way for Irvine, striking out 11 batters in 7 innings.

Irvine scored once in the second inning and again in the seventh when Merle Hapes hit a home run. Brea's big inning came when Snell, Stewart and "Red" Bath walked and Snell scored on a passed ball. Johnson's single brought in Stewart and Bath.

SANTA ANA'S ROQUE MEN BEAT GLENDALE
Santa Ana's roque team was just 11 points away from a Southern California championship today as result of the 57-42 victory over Glendale's team on their West Valley street courts yesterday.

The Santa Ana quartet composed of Frank Brown, Clarence Tucker, Oscar Shriver and Bill Einsman paired up to vanquish the visitors. Next Wednesday the Santa Ana team completes 10 weeks of round-robin play when they travel to Los Angeles.

Stewards Probe Alleged 'Ringer'

Results: Ramsay and Rodecker (G) def. Brown and Tucker (SA), 32-25. Shriver and Einsman (SA) def. Nelson and Jester (G) 32-10. Represented by Secretary-Treasurer R. M. Foster, the roque club recently went before the Santa Ana city council's forestry board and asked for more court space, which they say is too crowded.

George S. Briggs, Santa Ana sportsman of 644 North Broadway, was today en route to Alaska for another big game hunt in the Stikkeen river country.

Bear, moose, caribou and rams were among the objectives of the expedition. Briggs left Los Angeles last night and will go as far as Seattle by rail, shipping from there. He expects to return here about October 1.

GIRLS' LEAGUE LEADERS CLASH

Taking on all the aspects of a championship game the Lionette-Young's Market contest at the Orange City Park tonight may produce the eventual girls' league champion as well as set a new attendance record.

The game is a "natural". The teams are tied for the leadership with 10 victories against 8 defeats. The Columbia Pictures team is a half-game back of the two leaders as a result of its unexpected 2-1 defeat by Young's last Sunday night in Hollywood.

Orange officials have made preparations to handle one of the biggest crowds ever to witness a softball struggle in that city.

A large delegation of Hollywood and Los Angeles fans will accompany the Young's Market players to Orange tonight. Extra bleachers have been moved into the park.

After a four day lay-off, the Orange girls will go into the game tonight with their chances of victory resting almost entirely with Pitcher Lois Terry. Opposing Terry will be either Louise Embree, a fast-ball flinger or Mabel Sparlin, a lass who throws with a windmill delivery. Miss Sparlin bested the Lionettes the last time she faced them.

Coach Vic Baden sends a classy array of girl softball players against the heavy-hitting Young's nine. Melita Foster, Orange's leading hitter of the American league, will head the list, doing backstopping for Miss Terry. Ruth Lee, 1b; Elsie Winchell, 2b; Margaret Mast, 3b; Kasul Oshiki, ss, and Cordius Hamilton, Phoebe Miller and Bobby Wakeham, outfielders, will complete the Orange lineup.

GIVE MAGILL EVEN CHANCE IN MAT GO

If Cecil Magill, Long Beach wrestler who meets Tom Morelli Thursday night in the main event at Orange County Athletic club, can evade Morelli's "Italian smother," a hold he has perfected, he stands more than an equal chance to win the match, according to experts.

Those who pick Magill to win claim the Long Beach boy has perfected the flying tackle and drop kick to the point where he never misses with either method of attack.

On the other hand Morelli is one of the roughest wrestlers in the business and does not hesitate to do a little hair pulling or slugging when in a tight spot. Because of these unorthodox tactics and the fact that he keeps his foulling concealed there are many fans who are picking the Italian to win.

M'MILLAN TO COACH COLLEGE ALL-STARS

CHICAGO—(UP)—"Bo" McMillan, Indiana University coach will direct the collegiate all-stars against the Washington Redskins, champions of the National Professional league, in the fifth annual charity football game at Soldier field the night of Aug. 31.

Complete returns from the coast-to-coast poll conducted by 150 newspapers showed he had polled a total of 17,395,569 points. Last minute votes from Indiana and Kentucky pushed McMillan 2,000,000 points ahead of the year's surprise candidate, Harry Kipke. Kipke lost his job at Michigan, but polled an amazing number of votes. He led until the final count. Kipke, Raymond (Ducky) Pond of Yale, Elmer Layden of Notre Dame and A. J. Robertson of Bradley Tech, finished in order behind McMillan and will round out the all-star coaching staff.

BOUL FAILS TO CLICK: RECEIPTS ONLY $100,000

Radio KECA, 1430 kilocycles, will broadcast tonight's Armstrong-Ambers bout, beginning at 6 o'clock, Orange county time.

NEW YORK—(UP)—There was less than two pounds difference in the weights of Lou Ambers and Henry Armstrong when they weighed in today for tonight's lightweight championship fight at the Polo Grounds.

Ambers weighed 135; Armstrong 133½.

Armstrong, welterweight, and featherweight champion of the world, goes after Ambers' lightweight title in a 15-round bout. The little Los Angeles Negro—called by some the greatest fighter, pound for pound, who ever lived—was a 3 to 1 favorite in light betting.

Welter Title Not at Stake
Armstrong's welterweight title will not be at stake in New York, according to Chairman John J. Phelan of the New York boxing association, which has jurisdiction outside of New York, will recognize Ambers as the welterweight champion if he wins.

Dr. William H. Walker, who examined both fighters, said Ambers appeared nervous. He said both were in splendid physical condition. The weather was clear.

The odds are 10 to 1 against Ambers scoring a knockout and not over the lightweight champion himself claim he will put Armstrong down for the count. But he does believe he can stay out of danger with shifty footwork and kangaroo leaps long enough to chop Armstrong into hamburger and win a technical knockout.

Armstrong will wage the only kind of battle he knows how to fight, using the technique of a windmill and a spanking breeze. He plans to start and throw punches with both hands when he leaps out of his corner, crowding the pace all the time and driving Ambers along the ropes until he connects. When that happens it usually means lights out. Thirty-five of the last 38 men Armstrong has fought have been knocked out. Al Johnson, who has bet $1100 to $1000 that Armstrong scores a knockout, swears he will sing "Mammy" on a down-towner corner if Ambers wins.

Fight Fails To Click
The fight probably will be better than the gate. Promoter Mike Jacobs talked about a $200,000 gate when he made the match, but it appeared he would be lucky if he got half of that. Both fighters are working on a percentage. Ambers 27 1-2 per cent and Armstrong 27 1-2 per cent of the net receipts.

If Ambers should win tonight, there will be another one of those muddles that boxing commissions display genius in getting themselves into. The New York boxing commission has announced that it will not transfer Armstrong's 147-pound welterweight title to Ambers if the latter wins. Ambers intends to claim it anyway. The National Boxing association, however, will recognize Ambers as welterweight champion if he wins.

'CRACKS' AT RUTH ANGER DODGER BOSS

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—(UP)—Larry McPhail, vice-president and business manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, called President William Harridge of the American league to task today for "thinly veiled cracks" about Babe Ruth, Dodgers coach.

Harridge was quoted as having said the American league would stock to the "main show," and give the fans high grade baseball without any side show stuff. He added that the yellow baseball, night games, footcages and "ballyhoo men for coaches" were not needed yet in the junior circuit.

McPhail, who has employed all of these measures in attempting to restore prosperity at Ebbets field, did not take exception to anything but the reference to "ballyhoo men as coaches."

"I resent the thinly veiled cracks about Babe Ruth," he said. "Mr. Harridge may consider him a 'ballyhoo man'. In any event Mr. Harridge could not find a place for him in the American league. Ruth has made a valuable contribution to the spirit and morale of our club."

McPhail reminded Harridge that the American league had ballyhoed clowns like Nick Altrock and Al Schacht for years, and said that his "sur at Ruth is the essence of bad taste and punk sportsmanship."

PATTY BERG LEADS
HINDSBDALE, Ill. (UP)—Patty Berg of Minneapolis still was out in front today in her third attempt to win the 72-hole Women's Western Golf derby at Butterfield Country club.

At the halfway point, she held a seven-stroke lead over Ellamae Williams, daughter of a Chicago professional and was 10 strokes ahead of her old nemesis, Marion Milley.

WEST WINDS Here and There in Local Sport

SPORTS WHIRLIGIG; NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

Urban Plavan entered two of his horses on the "Santa Ana Day" card at Del Mar this afternoon but the North Main street sportsman wasn't there to see the fun. A throat infection has had Plavan confined since Saturday.

Dave Freeman, the minister's son from Pasadena who won the National junior tennis championship last week at Culver, Ind., will be here this week-end to compete in the Santa Ana Open tournament. Freeman is a badminton star as well as one of the country's most promising juvenile netters. . . . Members of the once potent Riverside Rubes, inland softball champs of yesteryear, are together again for a few exhibition games. Why don't the old-time Stars (Stockbridge, Wilcox, Cole, Snow, Hill, Scott, Lutz, Merrill, Bell, Nelson et al) have a grand revival before "Big Bill" Cole tails it back to Oregon this month? . . .

There's another one of those Howard Jones rumors abroad. This one says the S.C. coach will retire January 1 whether the Trojans win, lose or draw this fall. Another report says that Frank Thomas of Bama has definitely refused an offer from U.C.L.A. because he's making more at Tuscaloosa than the Bruins can possibly pay him. . . . Tall, graceful palms, some of 'em 50 feet high and weighing nine tons, are being transplanted in clumps of three around Pasadena's famed Rose Bowl.

This department is grateful to the Del Mar Turf club for naming one of today's races West Winds but hopes nobody will name a horse after him unless it's better than Sports Editor, which fell at Agua Caliente one day and had to be destroyed. . . . Dwight Ainsworth shot a 69 at the Willowick Golf club the other day; it was his first turn on the links in months. Willowick's amateur record is 67, held by Ralph Noble, Willowick's owner. . . .

Nothing brings the boys together on an even keel like baseball and softball. The lineup of the second-half champion Elitiste of the City league contains such names as "Porky" Bell, colored; Parissis Roussos, a Greek, and Ralph and Gene O'Campo and Pete Partida, who are of Latin extraction. The roster also numbers Armand Hanson and Soren Sorenson. Their background isn't difficult to guess.

The Elks and Pitcher Lyle Morse have mended their divorce, so Morse will be back on the ridge when the City league playoffs begin Monday. . . . Recently, when Henry Fanning, one-armed Pacific Coast league umpire, was taken ill, President Tuttle signed an umpire by the name of Ken West, sight unseen, to replace Fanning temporarily. Imagine Tuttle's surprise when West, like Fanning, proved to be shy an arm. . . .

Flash from the Three I league: Although hitting near the top less. So was my microscopic examination of waist, wrist and forearm figures.

Then—and when I saw it I don't mind telling you I was as thrilled as any old scholar when he stumbles across the key to an ancient language—then, I happened to fasten my eyes on the fists measurements of the champion and the challenger.

Like a flash it came to me—my reason for liking Ambers. Ambers' fists (or fist) to use the correct plural) measure 11½ inches. Those of Armstrong measure but 10¾ inches.

A fighting man is no better than his fists. They are his weapons, his staff of life, his meat and drink, his other man's poison.

Ambers' fists are much bigger than Henner's. As a result he is certain to miss less often. And being bigger, Ambers' fists must be stronger. The oak is mightier than the dogwood or the chinaberry, isn't it?

Therefore I do not hesitate to name Ambers as the winner. Tomorrow I probably won't hesitate to leave town. But that's another day. . . .

O.C.A.C. GETS BIG BOUT TOURNAMENT
Out of a clear sky comes a break for patrons of the Orange County A. C.'s regular weekly boxing shows. Promoters of the A.A.U.'s Southern California boxing tournaments have chosen the Highway arena for its light heavyweight eliminations.

These eliminations will be held Monday night between matches on the regular eight-bout card offered by Promoter "Bud" Levin.

Who the tournament contestants will be Levin did not know today. All he knew was that six entries had been received which assures the fans of three bouts featuring boys who aspire to win amateur trophies, and who do not fight for a livelihood.

On the regular card Jimmy Colben, the Los Angeles Negro who won a decisive victory from Charley Stone of Fullerton junior college last Monday night, will battle Howard Potts, also of Los Angeles. In the second half of the double main go Joe Gomez, Santa Ana, will fight Jimmy Perez, San Diego.

Will, Feliz Gomez, brother of Joe, meets Al Alonzo, in the semi-main event.

CITY CHAMPS OF LONG BEACH INVADE BOWL

With Jommy Coates in the stirrups for the first time this year, Santa Ana's Stars meet Shell Oil of Long Beach at the Municipal Bowl tonight in the season's most attractive softball exhibition. The start at 8 o'clock.

The Shell Oil team is handled by Billy Feistner. It is the No. 1 club of the Long Beach City league. Last summer, playing in Anaheim's silks, it won the National league championship after ending Huntington Beach's long reign in a semi-final Shaughnessy series. Despite Coates' added pitching and batting power, the Royal Dutchmen figure to outscore the Santa Anas.

There is considerable feeling between the head men of the clubs. Among the freak bets reported was one by Shell Manager Feistner that his club would get two hits off Coates for every one the Stars make off Lyle Morse, Shell's ace flinger. Morse has shaded Coates twice in Long Beach skirmishes.

The Shell lineup includes Merv Lower and "Eeny" Wilcox, catchers; Morse and Wilbur Stinchfield, pitchers; Hal Higgins, 1b; George Preble, 2b; Cliff Edmondson, 3b; Bill McKinley, ss; Bob Guy, lf; Floyd Montgomery, cf, and Dave Webb, rf. "Red" Stives, Charley Montgomery, Ray Ellis and Terry Griffith are the reserves.

Santa Ana will start its usual lineup, augmented by Jim Coates who will bat third.

Last night, Stanley Jacobsmeyer pitched three-hit ball for Santa Ana, but his colleagues couldn't get any runs off Bob Fowler as San Bernardino defeated the Stars at the Bowl, 2-0. "Jake" hurled eight innings of hitless ball. San Bernardino grouping its runs and all its hits in the seventh. Webb opened with an infield single and Gilhousem beat out a bunt. Nottingham fanned and Fowler forced Welch at third but Ed Weiser delivered a low liner to center that went for two bases and scored both Gilhousem and Fowler.

Santa Ana had a chance to get somewhere in the eighth when Ray Short doubled and Smith and B. Koral walked, filling the bases, before Mott died on strikes.

The box score:

Laguna Library Gain Is Revealed

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 10.—Figures issued yesterday by Librarian Marjorie Case indicate an all time high point in book reading by patrons of the local public library. In her report to the Orange County Public Library, of which the local institution is a branch, Mrs. Case lists 6205 books issued, as against 5125 for the preceding month of June.

Analysis of the July reports shows a strong trend in favor of reference material, in the non-fiction field. Much of this source data is sought by summer residents engaged in writing, artistic and radio work.

According to scientists, the temperature of the sun is about 11,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

Former Chief Of Laguna Praised

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 10.—Under the heading "Legal Advertising" local weekly sheets carry an impassioned testimonial to Abe W. Johnson, former police chief, whose resignation was filed last month. The eulogy, headed "Resolution No. 409", follows closely the form of a resolution adopted by the city council following Mr. Johnson's resignation. It sets forth the desire to "perpetuate his name through future generations." It extols the good work done during a dozen years of service and pays tribute in general to the record of the genial Mr. Johnson. Signed by "The Citizens of Laguna Beach," the attendant publicity is the work, acknowledged yesterday, of George Langskov, local philatelist.

Johnson, still "Chief" to local citizens, is now enjoying a month's vacation, preparatory to assuming work for the city, in another capacity, in line with the offer of city council upon the occasion of his retirement as chief.

HOME COMING PROGRAM HELD

TALBERT, Aug. 10.—The home coming program held at Talbert Methodist church, south, August 7, on the occasion of the visit of the presiding elder, Dr. J. A. The church pastor, Rev. Carl Crosson of Hollywood, a personal friend of the couple, performed the double ring ceremony and attending the bride was Mrs. Bess Turner, also of Los Angeles. The bride was in a gown of blue lace with trim and accessories of rose and her arm bouquet was of white flowers and fern. Mrs. Wirth wore a dusky pink gown with harmonizing accessories.

Completion of work on the auditorium was the incentive for the home coming. Two special musical numbers, a vocal solo, "Why Are They Whipping My Jesus?" by Earl Carter of Long Beach, who accompanied himself on the guitar, and a duet number "Christ of the Cross," sung by Mrs. E. H. Caudill and Mrs. Hattie Talbert, were on the program.

Full payment has been made on all improvements, it was announced. Reports were given by the Rev. Carl J. Jagger, Sunday school superintendent; Mrs. Anna Helm, Junior Missionary society and the pastor, the Rev. Mr. Crosson. Mrs. Hattie Talbert, Mrs. Anna Helm and John Pope were elected trustees and stewards for the coming year. A church service followed the quarterly meeting with Mrs. E. H. Caudill presenting the message and a vocal duet number was presented by the Rev. and Mrs. Dugger.

Visitor In Brea Tells Of Peiping

BREA, Aug. 10.—Miss Martha Wylie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Herman Wylie of Peiping, China, has arrived from the Orient, where she has lived with her parents for the past four years. Her father is a missionary doctor connected with a hospital in Peiping. He is associated with the Presbyterian church.

Miss Wylie stated that there has not been a great deal of war activity around Peiping since the Japanese invasion over a year ago.

After a week's visit with her great uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Culp, she will go to Bloomington, Ind., where she will join her two sisters, Sally and Ruth. In September, the three will go to Wooster, Ohio, where they will attend college.

She was accompanied to the states by an aunt, Miss Martha Wylie, who will come to Brea Wednesday from Pasadena.

W. C. T. U. RAPS AT HOLLYWOOD

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—(UP)—The Women's Christian Temperance Union today took issue with the motion picture industry for developing "unwomanly qualities" in feminine America.

It was recalled to the thousands of delegates attending the 64th annual convention of the anti-liquor organization that one of their most noted temperance workers was Carrie Nation, who swung a hatchet in unwomanly fashion on the saloons of her native Kansas.

But the tactics of Carrie Nation no longer meet with the approval . . . if they ever did . . . of the temperance campaigners.

Taken To Task

"Womanliness first" is the motto now, and it was first spoken by the most distinguished temperance advocate of all . . . Frances Willard . . . who founded the union.

Miss Maude M. Aldrich of Gresham, Ore., national chairman of the union's motion picture committee took Hollywood to task in her annual report.

"Let every member of this organization work harder than ever that this mighty medium of expression, the motion picture, may by proper regulation become a power to preserve America's best in womanliness," she said.

Serious Matter

Such morality, it was pointed out, is almost as serious a concern to the W.C.T.U. as the fight against beverage alcohol.

In the discussion, Mrs. Grace H. Budde of Seattle, social morality director, said that moral education to be effective should cover all age levels.

"We do not expect a Utopia of this world," she said, "but through the study of the causes of immorality, we can give young people a vision of clean living and its attendant happiness."

Decadent Race

Thus through education the W.C.T.U. hopes to bring about reforms in America which it looks upon as contributing to the decadence of the race. For the purpose of such education alone, the members have collected nearly $600,000, and they hope to increase the fund to $1,000,000. The money will not be spent for legislation or for administration, but for moral education.

Miss Elizabeth Smart of New York said the temptations to sailors on shore leave in San Francisco were "terrible." The W.C.T.U. convention has been in session during a time when hundreds of sailors from a score of battle-ships in San Francisco harbor have been enjoying a vacation ashore. Bars along Market street are crowded with sailors, marines and soldiers from the Presidio.

The Shell of Men

"The liquor forces, if left unchecked, will act as termites and eat away the inside, leaving only the shell of men as our national defenders," said Miss Smart. "Navy men can be given itineraries of points of interest, parks, museums and the like, which they can visit instead of going into the dives of iniquity. Also we can see that the uniform of a sailor or soldier is not a badge to bar men from the better theaters and cafes."

Many entertainment and eating places do not cater to sailors and soldiers.

"Hawaiian delegates report," Miss Smart said, "that when the fleet was in the islands, W.C.T.U. members entertained 150 men a day with automobile rides, reading rooms and serving doughnuts and coffee."

The convention concludes tomorrow.

Open Services

Evangelist B. E. Lasater, above, and Mrs. Lasater, of Oklahoma, will conduct revival services that open at 7:45 p. m. today in the Full Gospel Assembly at 1600 W. Third street. It was announced today by the Rev. Ernest L. Friend, pastor. The latter said the services will be continued indefinitely and will begin each night except Saturday at 7:45 p. m.

"Moving Finger Writes And Having Writ, Moves On . . ."

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—(UP)—The lyric Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam, which for generations has thrown philosophers and students into ecstasies of delight, threw William Ross, 39-year-old salesman, into the jailhouse today.

Ross, police charged, couldn't keep his hands off copies of the famed tentmaker's poems, and had acquired quite a collection of the books in a highly unethical manner, namely, shoplifting.

Makes Admissions

Captured in the act, police said, of stealing a thumb-nail-size edition of the book from a store, Ross admitted he had just completed serving a year's term in the city jail for stealing two copies of the same book from the same store.

And, a year previously, he was convicted of lifting another copy of the poems from still another store, but had escaped from a road camp while serving another year's term, he further admitted.

Policewoman Lulu B. Lane, in seeking a petty theft complaint today, added that Ross also had a prior prison term for forgery.

"DEAD END" KIDS IN DUAL FEATURE

A simple and powerful story of what happens when tragedy strikes a family in a big city is told in the new drama, "Little Tough Guy," an astonishing document of reckless youth starring the famous "Dead End" kids, which opens tomorrow afternoon at the Broadway theater along with Joe Penner's latest comedy, "I'm From the City."

The story of "Little Tough Guy" begins when the father is sent to jail on a murder charge, and follows the mother, son and daughter after they move to cheap quarters in a sordid section of the city.

The cast of "Little Tough Guy," besides the "Dead End" kids, includes Helen Parrish, Robert Wilcox, Jackie Searl and Marjorie Main.

The mythical plot of "I'm From the City" presents Joe Penner, famous radio and screen comedian, as a timid circus performer who is afraid of horses, but who rides like a whirlwind when he is hypnotized by his "manager," played by Richard Lane. Lorraine Krueger, Kay Sutton, Katherine Sheldon and Paul Guilfoyle have leading roles. Short subjects include an Our Gang comedy and World News.

Tonight the Broadway will show for the last time "The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," the unique comedy-drama starring Edward G. Robinson in the greatest role of his career, and "Army Girl," with Madge Evans and Preston Foster.

SERIAL STORY

HAYWIRE HOUSE

BY EDWIN RUTT

COPYRIGHT, 1938
NEA SERVICE, INC.

Yesterday, To his amazement Kinks finds that pretty Sally Pennington owns the other half of the house.

CHAPTER III

KINKS stared at her dazedly. "You own the other half of it?" he echoed.

"That's what I said," confirmed Sally.

"But I don't understand," said Kinks. "How—how come . . ."

"What's so strange about it?" Sally cut in. "I was Mrs. Preston's companion for six years, ever since my mother died. I was the closest one to her. Of course, you could have knocked me down with a feather when I heard how she'd made her will. But thinking it over, it isn't so surprising."

"No," he said. "It isn't. The surprising part is that she included me."

"I know why that happened," said Sally. "Mrs. Preston was very . . . well, orthodox. You were her only living relative and she remembered you out of a sense of family obligation."

Kinks grinned palely. "Makes sort of a mug out of me, doesn't it? And I suppose you wish I wasn't in the picture?"

"If you're implying that I wish I had the whole thing myself, you're very insulting. But I don't see why I should welcome you when you talk about selling the place as if it were a crate of eggs."

"But why don't you want to sell it?"

"I've already told you. Because it's my—my home, that's all."

"Are you living alone here?" Kinks asked.

"No. Mrs. Clipstack is with me. She's sort of a combination cook and housekeeper. She's quite deaf and she takes a nap about this time every day. That's why she didn't hear you ringing, no doubt."

"I'm not surprised," said Kinks. "Everybody in Winstock takes a nap. This would have been a swell place for Rip Van Winkle."

FOR the first time Miss Sally gave detailed attention to the gentleman with whom she now owned a house. Under other circumstances he might have pleased her. Undeniably he had a pleasant hair curled away from his temples very nicely. His eyes were gray and steady. The corner of his wide mouth broke into a funny, little crinkles when he smiled. But his attitude was wrong. Altogether too flippant.

"Before we do another thing," she said, "you and I are going to call on Mr. Kenworthy. He'll tell you what you can do and what you can't."

"Forget it," Kinks suggested. "Mr. Kenworthy is off wool-gathering with a guy named Morpheus. Let's just browse about here."

"Browse, nothing," said Sally determinedly. "I left the car out in front when I came in from marketing. And we're going to Winstock this minute. Come along."

Mr. Caleb John Kenworthy had returned to his office. He was a fussy, little old gentleman with spectacles that explored the very tip of his nose. He peered at them over the spectacles.

"Ah, it's you, Sally," he said. "And . . . He paused, looking perplexed at Kinks.

Sally took the floor.

"This is Kinkaid Parker, Mr. Kenworthy," she said. "He's come up about Mrs. Preston's property."

Mr. Kenworthy surveyed Kinks from head to foot.

"Kinkaid Parker, eh?" he barked suddenly. "Well, why weren't you here for the reading of the will, young man? I notified you."

"I didn't know a thing about this till today," said Kinks, looking blank.

"And to complicate matters still further," said Sally, giving Kinks a dirty look, "Mr. Parker is determined to sell the property immediately."

Mr. Kenworthy gazed accusingly at Kinks, then back to Sally.

"He can't do that," he decreed. "Not unless you agree. Such are the terms of the will. Nothing can be done without the mutual consent of both beneficiaries."

"There!" exclaimed Sally triumphantly. "And I wouldn't agree to sell it in a million years."

"Still," continued Mr. Kenworthy, "you young people will have to do something. The position is this, Mr. Parker: Your aunt left barely enough in cash and securities to meet the death taxes. There are no other convertible assets. And the house has a mortgage calling for semi-annual interest and amortization payments of $600 each. Unfortunately, one of these payments is due in about two weeks. And unless you are—er—solvent, I don't know how it's going to be met."

KINKS whistled. Six hundred dollars! In his present unemployed state $600 seemed like a fortune.

"Who holds this mortgage?" he inquired.

Mr. Kenworthy made a grimace of distaste.

"You might as well say that old Spencer Ames does," he said. "Actually it's the First National Bank of Winstock. But what's the difference? Old Spencer Ames and the bank here are one and the same thing."

"Well," said Kinks, when they had left the lawyer's office, "you win the first round. But how are we going to raise $600?"

Sally frowned. "I don't know. I hadn't an idea it would be that much. Mrs. Preston never talked about her affairs. And I haven't anything like $600."

"You and me both," said Kinks. They paused on the curb.

"Well," inquired Sally, "what's the next move?"

"Search me," said Kinks. "I guess I'd better hop a train to New York and snatch a payroll."

At this point a car swung toward the curb. It came in so suddenly that Sally and Kinks instinctively jumped back. Behind the wheel sat a mousy-looking, elderly man. By his side was an ample and imperious female of advancing years. And the back of the car was literally crawling with suitcases, boxes and hampers of all descriptions.

The imperious lady beckoned Kinks. Obviously she mistook him for some of the village talent.

"Young man," she said, "can you direct me to a quiet, inexpensive hotel?"

"Hotel, Madam?" said Kinks politely.

"I said 'hotel,' young man," declared the imperious lady. "And, mind you, it must be quiet. Papa, here," she indicated the mouse-like man—"has been ill. We started on a motor trip, but it's too much for him. We've decided to put up somewhere and rest."

"Why, I don't know . . ." said Kinks.

"There aren't any hotels around here," Sally cut in.

THE elderly woman looked at her sharply.

"You mean to say," she said, "that there isn't a quiet, little, country inn? Not even a farmhouse that could take us in?"

"Well . . ." began Sally.

Very suddenly Kinks interrupted her. "Just a minute."

Grade A inspirations come seldom. When they do they cause the eyes of the inspired to shine fanatically and his entire anatomy to shiver in a kind of ecstasy. Mr. Kinks Parker was aware both of shining and shivering. What an ideal! What a honey of a brain-wave! A rambling, roomy house. A peaceful countryside. A quiet river. In the kitchen a lady named Clipstack who could probably have made a bun out of the chef to Lucullus. And Miss Sally Pennington overseeing the lot and he, Kinks Parker, able to stick around and see a lot of Miss Sally Pennington.

"Well, what is it, young man?" said the elderly woman. "We're waiting."

Kinks Parker took a quick look at Sally and a long breath.

"I know just the place you want," he said. "Why don't you try the Pennington-Parker Restaurant?"

Stirring Epoch Is Portrayed

One of the most stirring and turbulent epochs in American history, the period of the Reconstruction, lives again in a magnificent screen romance in "The Texans," which opens a local engagement today at the West Coast theater.

Against a thrilling background of the mad days when a victorious North tried to rule a conquered South after the War Between the States was over, "The Texans" tells the story of a proud frontier people who refused to be beaten down and battled furiously for their rights as Americans until their conquerors recognized them as equals.

Playing the chief roles in a tale which combines romance with history are Randolph Scott, Joan Bennett, May Robson, Walter Brennan, Robert Barrat, Robert Cummings, Harvey Stephens. The story concerns the ten-year battle between corrupt carpet-baggers and proud natives for control of the destiny of the South.

Solving a murder mystery by the ancient science of astrology forms the novel theme of "When Were You Born?" the second feature on the new program, which has a cast headed by Anna May Wong, Margaret Lindsay and Anthony Averill. The picture is highly unusual because interwoven with the full quota of thrills to be expected in a murder mystery story, is an explanation of the working methods of a bona fide astrologer.

Bigger and better eggs are laid by hens which are fed cod-liver oil.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, August 10.—Memories that bless and burn: When Constance Bennett, planning a trip to Europe, had a jig-saw puzzle, measuring thirty-six feet square, made to amuse her en route. When Jack Oakie's romance with Peggy Hopkins Joyce was the talk of the town. When Charlie Chaplin awed the Friday night crowd at the Coconut Grove by introducing the tango. When a clever forger of antique furniture and "great paintings" looted the movie colony to the tune of a half-million.

When Alice White's open-house poker parties were a highlight of Hollywood life. When Charlie Farrell staged a one-man sit-down strike against the Fox studio because the front office had forbidden him to play polo. When Marlene Dietrich's discharged chauffeur threatened to write a too revealing story—and someone persuaded an official in the district attorney's office to stop him.

When Jean Harlow decided to practice golf in her back yard and sent her first drive through the windshield of her own car. When Ramon Novarro refused an offer of $10,000 cash to teach a titled English lady how to dance the Argentine tango. When William Powell used to spend his Saturday afternoons mowing his front lawn.

We were talking, last night, about the earnings of present day screen stars and finally agreed that Mae West, who had collected from the studio for her writing as well as her acting, probably tops the list. In support of that contention, one of the Paramount delegation told this story. Seems that Mae, returning from a vacation trip to New York, was summoned to a conference. "While you have been away," beamed the Big Shot, "we have had our five best writers (rate them at $5,000 each) working on a story for your next picture. All you need to do is to pick the version that you like best." Mae looked at him with her most tantalizing grin. "I've already picked my favorite version," said she. "I wrote it myself, on the train, and it's the one we'll use. It will cost you ten grand!"

If J. Carroll Nash has ever been victimized by Paramount's practical jokes, he has more than evened the score. In his current picture he disguises himself as a very old woman—and wears the make-up so naturally that those who have not seen him on the set are invariably fooled by it. His chief delight is to totter feebly to the studio and café and stand patiently by the door until some chivalrous soul, touched by his apparent sex and infirmity,

$1,000,000 Program Reflects Beauty At Fair

With fourteen new buildings, two of them huge steel and concrete exhibit structures and with an entire rearrangement of the grounds, a new and still more beautiful Los Angeles County Fair will be presented to the 750,000 visitors during the 17 days between Sept. 16 and Oct. 2. Over $1,000,000 is being spent in a major improvement program extending over the entire 300 acres of the exposition park.

COUNTY SPURNS LEGION PLEAS

Two requests for county funds to advertise Orange county in connection with the approaching national convention of the American Legion in Los Angeles were rejected by the county supervisors late yesterday.

On motion of Supervisor N. E. West, the board rejected a request from the Laguna Beach Rotary club, that the county council of the American Legion be granted funds with which to bring convention delegates on tours of Orange county; also an informal request from the Orange County Bugle and Drum corps for funds to finance its attendance at the convention.

West's motion was based on the absence of funds in the county advertising fund for such purpose. Chairman Willard Smith, advertising committee member, informed the board that no provision had been made for such items in the new year's advertising budget.

A complete program has been arranged for the afternoon, Campbell said, and county registers will be available for registration.

RICH AGGREGATION OF AWARDS TO SMASH RECORDS FOR FAIRS

A grand total of $175,000, forming the richest aggregation of cash awards at any county or state fair in America and the largest in its own history, will be divided among the 15,000 exhibitors in the 30 major divisions of Los Angeles County Fair in Pomona Sept. 16 to Oct. 2, it was announced today by Secretary-Manager C. B. Afflerbaugh. There is an increase of $25,000 over last fall.

The lion's share of the prize money will go to the livestock department including the brilliant night horse show. Over $50,000 has been apportioned for the purpose. Agricultural and horticultural products are next in line. They will receive $22,000. Household Arts with 1243 classifications will draw $6,000. Approximately $15,000 is being spent to bring the national percheron show to Pomona.

The remainder of the prize money will be distributed among the winners in the various other divisions including junior fair, flower show, dog show, poultry, pigeons, rabbits, fine arts, arts and crafts, dairy products, industrial, apriary, wine show and schools.

Announcement of Awards
Announcement of the awards comes on the heels of the distribution of over 30,000 premium lists to as many prospective exhibitors. Because of the vast number of articles listed it is necessary this year to print the premium books in seven volumes, each dealing with certain departments.

Construction and beautification about the 300-acre exposition park is keeping pace with the preparations for the exhibits, and hundreds of men are rushing work on the last of the dozen new structures.

OIL PROSPECT SEEN FOR COUNTY LANDS

The county supervisors suspect they may have oil prospects for the county on a certain Huntington Beach property, which is mortgaged to the county for $499.

So they are going to investigate the prospects before accepting an offer of $100 for their mortgage. The offer was made yesterday by T. M. Frampton of Huntington Beach, and Welfare Director Thomas P. Douglas recommended acceptance.

But Supervisor John Mitchell said "Hold on, wait a minute, I saw an oil rig going up in that neighborhood the other day. Maybe we've got something there." Frampton's offer is resting on the table.

Deportation Move Sent To Governor

Governor Frank F. Merriam has received a copy of the resolution passed recently by the Orange county supervisors, urging deportation of aliens unlawfully in the country, and is "in full accord with the ideas set forth therein," he informed the supervisors in a letter received yesterday.

The resolution urges action by the federal government in eliminating aliens here through illegal entry, for the benefit of local employment of the relief burden.

TYPEWRITER SNARL IS PARTLY SOLVED

Mystery of the finding of five typewriters on First street one and one-half miles west of the Seal Beach water works yesterday was at least partially solved today, for a bulletin from Los Angeles county sheriff's officers to Sheriff Logan Jackson shows the typewriters, with none others, were stolen from Long Beach Junior college.

According to Deputy Sheriffs James Musick and John Gilmore, E. V. Clark, 711 Wyoming street, Westminster, first reported the five typewriters were found along the road by two young Westminster boys. Later, the officers went to the scene and found four more typewriters. The other stolen typewriters have not been recovered, officers reported. Those found were badly damaged. Those investigating believe the ones found were tossed from a moving car.

BIGELOW GETS FLOOD POST

COUNTY MOVES TO CHECK JOB

Advancement of two engineers in the county flood control department was approved by the county supervisors late yesterday, as one member, Supervisor Steele Finley, hurled charges of "politics".

On recommendation of Flood Engineer M. N. Thompson, Assistant Engineer F. O. Bigelow was appointed to the newly created position of resident engineer on the relocation project in Santa Ana canyon, affecting the state highway and Santa Fe railroad. Paul D. Pratt, construction superintendent in the flood control department, was promoted to Bigelow's place as assistant chief engineer.

Finley reiterated the opposition he had expressed when the position of resident engineer was created several weeks ago by the board. At that time he said he could see no reason for the county having an engineer on the job, since the state highway engineers would be there to look after it.

Other members pointed out that the county was under considerable financial responsibility to the state and the railroad company, and must look after its own interests there, rather than depend upon someone else to look out for them.

Resentment Heated
But Finley remained unconvinced. He opposed Bigelow's appointment yesterday as a "political appointment." Supervisor N. E. West resented the charge with some heat. When the vote was taken, West, Supervisor Harry Riley and Chairman Willard Smith supported the appointment, Finley voting "No". Supervisor John Mitchell, who also expressed some doubt that the position of resident engineer was necessary, declined to vote on the appointment.

Nebraskans Will Fete In Anaheim

Members of the Dawson county, Nebraska, club will hold their semi-annual picnic at Anaheim City Park, Center street, Anaheim, on Sunday, August 14, beginning between 10 and 11 a. m. W. C. May, club member of 315 South Main street announced today.

Anyone visiting or living in Southern California who hails from Dawson county, is invited to attend the picnic, to be held at Anaheim by special request of Jerome Wallace, president of the club, who lives in Anaheim. GRUMBLING ENDS AS $162 IS REFUNDED TO JUVENILE CHIEF

After some grumbling by supervisors who disapprove Juvenile Home administration by the county probation committee, the county board yesterday approved a request by the probation committee for a salary refund of $162 to Superintendent Fred Germany, of the Juvenile Home.

The refund represented deductions from Germany's salary for room rent and meals at the Juvenile Home since last April. The supervisors were advised that Germany had not been sleeping at the home, nor taking all his meals there.

Lift Their Voices
This gave the critics opportunity to lift their voices, and they lost no time. Supervisors N. E. West, Steele Finley and John Mitchell denounced Germany's action in not staying at the Juvenile Home nights.

"The law says it is to be run as much like a home as possible," and the head of a home doesn't ordinarily stay away from it nights," added West.

"But I recommended that we approve the request, because Judge Ames of juvenile court, informed me that the probation committee has charge of the home and we have nothing to say about it," said Mitchell, who is board chairman.

"Well, we can control their salaries," said Finley. But other supervisors reminded him the board already had fixed salaries.

Makes Discovery
At that point, Supervisor West made a discovery that obviously caused him chagrin. "We're not going to support such a request are we?" he demanded.

He was informed that the board already had voted approval of the request, with Mitchell's recommendation, while he was out of the board room.

"Where was I?" he demanded. "Out lining up your campaign," Supervisor Harry Riley chuckled.

PROTESTS KILLING OF THIRTY CHICKS

N. S. Pennington, 230 Fullerton avenue, Buena Park, lays claim to plenty of patience but indicates he feels there's limit to almost everything unless it be time or space. Pennington complained to sheriff's officers last night that a neighbor of his has several dogs and that one of them, a fox terrier, had pounced upon and destroyed 30 of his six-weeks-old chickens yesterday. Deputy Sheriffs Tom Murphy and Frank Cagle told Pennington they would ask Poundmaster H. D. Pickering to take necessary action against the dogs, all of which are unlicensed, according to Pennington's report.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR S. A. CONCERT

For the opening number on this Thursday afternoon's Birch Park concert by the Federal Music Project's concert band, Dale Porter, director, has selected to play the "Herbert E.H." march. The march was composed by the late Edward Klein, former conductor of the federal band. It is dedicated to Herbert L. Clark, veteran leader of the Long Beach band.

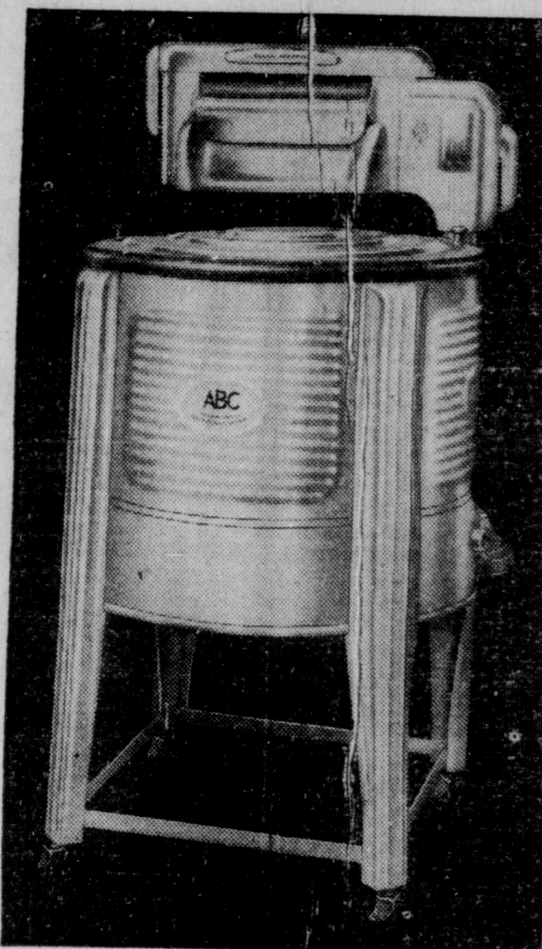

Two lively musical sketches are scheduled for performance, "Pop," an amtsen composition in the characteristic modern writing, and "Down South," by Middleton. The latter opens with two quaint dance sketches, the "Big Boot" and "Sand" dances.

Reversing the order of the sub-line to the ridiculous, the concert will proceed with Wagner's great "Rienzi" overture. Safranek's suite, "Atlantis," ends the concert. The compelling music of this suite is the composer's conception of life as it might have existed on the mythical island. The concert will begin at 2:30 p. m.

Our Children

TOY GUNS

I do not like to see children playing with pistols and guns. These are toys that make crime a game for little children. When a three year old child holds his little pistol against the chest of his playmate and snaps it, and his friend falls "dead," isn't he playing crime? And would anybody in his senses approve that idea?

I am realistic enough to know that we have to have guns and ammunition for the protection of society. But that function belongs to men trained for the service, and certainly not to children. And men trained to protect society do not hold guns against the bodies of citizens and murder them in cold blood. That is entirely the method of criminals, enemies of society.

There is nothing funny, to me, in murder or the thought of murder. I'm against games that make murder a joke, even when grown people play them. They are old enough to know better. I am against any toy or any game that lets children believe, for a single minute of their lives, that killing is a lark and murder a joke.

If you think this is taking a toy too seriously, I must point to the murders committed by young people scarcely out of their teens, to children killed by their playmates who handled guns they did not understand, or which they thought were not loaded. If these children had been taught from babyhood on that a gun was an instrument, that it dealt with death, I believe that youthful murderers would be fewer than they are, and that accidents to children would be considerably fewer than they have been recently.

Death is a fact of life to be sure, but it is a finality beyond which a human being cannot look. It has implications that a human being does not understand and before which all of us must stand in awe and reverence. To make a game of any such matter is about as stupid a mistake as we are capable of making.

I am not asking for a law against it. Laws are only the accepted opinions of the people. Before they can work the people must have accepted them and put them to work in their daily practice. I am asking every grownup person who has to do with children to ignore all games that have killing for their interest point, and guns for the practice of the game. All that is necessary is to stop buying them and the manufacturers will make something else. They make them now because people buy them.

What about teaching boys to use guns? Certainly, if they need to know, teach them, but teach them from the beginning that the use of a gun is to kill. Don't begin that teaching until the boy is mature enough to understand what killing means, what it involves of destruction, tragedy, cruelty, as well as protection, sportsmanship and good fun.

Mr. Patri has prepared a leaflet entitled "A Parent's Prayer," which is an inspiring example for parents to follow in bringing up children. It is suitable for framing. Send for it, addressing your request to Mr. Angelo Patri, Child Psychology Department of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped (3-cent) envelope. (Copyright, 1938, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

DRIVE CAREFULLY
—SAVE A LIFE—

TIME FOR AN EXCEPTION

Senator J. C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, head of the Congressional committee which is to conduct the "anti-monopoly" investigation of industry, has announced, in effect, that it will not be a muck-raking expedition. Instead, he said, it will be conducted without fanfare, in an attempt to get at actual facts, and will involve a survey of the economic system as a whole.

It is to be hoped that the other members of the committee approach the investigation in a similar frame of mind. It will not be soon forgotten that many of the so-called monopolistic practices which the government now condemns, were not only approved but made legally obligatory under the NRA codes. In other instances, state laws have forced industry to pursue tactics which in one sense or another may be called monopolistic.

Most Congressional investigations tend to turn into inquiries for political effect. The country as a whole will hope that Senator O'Mahoney is right and that this investigation will be an exception to the rule.

PAYABLE IN ADVANCE

The British Parliament adjourned the other day, and a glance over the achievements of the nine-month session suddenly made plainer a particular truth about war.

The members of England's legislative body had been involved in discussions of rearmament almost every day of their calendar between November and the end of July. Threats of war and the problems of war preparation had occupied their attention almost uninterruptedly, very nearly to the exclusion of any normal, peacetime social legislation whatsoever.

Ministers who normally would have been working on such problems as housing and public health found themselves forced to confine their energies to the perfection of air raid precautions and the protection of Britain's food supply in war times. The government's budget, as one published resume expressed it, was a sign that "finance as well as almost every other aspect of national life was being twisted and strained to meet the threat of war."

What the year's activities suggest—and what is worth pasting in your hat—is that a nation pays for war in the interruption of its social progress not only while that war is being waged, and afterwards, but before it ever begins.

TIGHTENING THE BELT

Japan's matches are going to be shorter, hereafter; shorter by exactly 29 one-thousandths of an inch. Furthermore, Japanese housewives are going to have to get along without iron frying pans; cotton clothing no longer will be on sale, and Japanese motorists will be able to buy no more than two gallons of gasoline a day.

These odd little items are part of a new win-the-war drive. Japan gets most of her raw materials from abroad, and subduing the wily Chinaman leaves little cash for outside purchases. So the pennies have to be pinched. Shortening the match-sticks, for instance, will mean a saving of some $290,000 a year.

All of this comes under the heading of tightening one's belt.

During the last 20 years men have come to accept the idea that any one nation can prosper only at the expense of its neighbors. It must have raw materials, colonies, room for expansion, trade outlets, markets; it can get them only by taking them from someone else. Consequently its people must make great sacrifices in preparation for the struggle, at the end of which, of course, they will be rewarded by an abundance of the good things they have had to go without. At least that's the promise made by the war-lords and politicians.

The world turns coffee, grain and other food-stuffs, shuts down mines, lets factories lie idle, limits the production of its fields and its forests, and then doggedly goes ahead and tightens its belt, does without things, and looks ahead to the day when military triumph will make those things available once more.

Some day people will look back on this present era as a time of collective lunacy. They will find it hard to believe that stories like this one out of Japan could really have been true. They will look with astonishment on the present idea that this is a land of plenty and crops are plowed under while millions in this country and other parts of the world are in need.

But there will be plenty of wars and rumors of wars before that day comes.

TOLEDO NEWS-BEE
(Editor and Publisher)

Add another newspaper to the victims of depression, a war casualty which heard the fatal word nearly 20 years after the last shot was fired. No single cause can be cited for the death of the Toledo News-Bee, one of the older Scripps-Howard newspapers, for many elements combined to make its further conduct uneconomical.

For several years it has been a second newspaper in a city which evidently cannot support two evening newspapers with profit to both. Its competition is ably edited and managed, and though a Republican newspaper, the Blade's editorial policies are not far from those upon which Scripps-Howard newspaper successes have been built. The city itself in recent years has become increasingly dependent on the automobile industry, with highly seasonal operations, long layoffs, and in recent years suspension of several industries and generalized labor troubles.

The latter have been handled better in Toledo than in many other cities, thanks largely to the assistance of the newspapers, and peace is fairly well guaranteed today. Still, that doesn't make the pennies available in a factory worker's budget for two newspapers, and for one reason or another, the majority seemed to prefer the other.

News-Bee income has not balanced out for several years. Existing tax laws do not encourage the operation of a losing newspaper by a chain, since consolidated losses can no longer be offset against consolidated gains and the loss on a losing newspaper is entirely out of pocket.

With Uncle Sam making no allowances for a bad year or a succession of bad years in his tax collections, labor unions, the guild in particular, kept the pressure on for higher pay and

Sharing The Comforts Of Life

TWO ORANGES A WEEK PER PERSON

A statement made by a prominent citizen, attempting to prove that there is plenty of everything, was that oranges were too plentiful. This caused the writer to check up on the production of oranges in the United States.

According to the estimated figures from the Agricultural Commission's office, there are practically 60 million boxes of oranges produced a year. This year it is estimated that there will be approximately 67 million boxes. It is estimated that these boxes contain on the average of 200 oranges. This would mean that if all these oranges were consumed in the United States, there would be two oranges a week for every citizen in the nation.

It thus is evident there are not too many oranges produced. The trouble is there is interference with other people being trained to produce and there is interference with the natural and free production and exchange of things and services. This prevents enough other things being produced to exchange for these oranges on a free market basis. If there were more manufactured goods and services produced and more crops of other kinds produced that the producers of oranges wanted and needed that could be exchanged on a free basis, these two oranges a week for each person would not be nearly enough oranges.

What we need is public opinion and a government that will prevent the restriction of production and distribution that interferes with the production of goods, so badly needed and wanted by orange growers in the United States.

And if the whole world was taken into consideration and we attempted to distribute oranges all over the world, it is doubtful whether there would be one orange a month produced for each person in the world.

Now there is no overproduction of oranges but underproduction and interference with other things.

DISHONESTY NATURAL

This column has repeatedly quoted that "Man is born in sin" and from Jeremy Bentham, "To enjoy immediately—to enjoy without labor, is the natural inclination of every man." Now comes Harry Sherman, in his new book, "The Promises Men Live By" with the following statement:

"The cold fact is that men acting together in a community, large or small, are just as dishonest, just as unscrupulous in breaking their promises, as they dare to be at any one time. Governments always, small or large, will get away with what they can, up to the point where the supremacy of the ruling power is endangered. No such thing as personal integrity, the satisfaction of being reliable, and the shame of betraying faith, appear other than microscopically in governmental economies. This may be a hard pill for the patriot who is a sentimentalist to swallow, but no clear-eyed person, looking at all past and all current history, may doubt it."

Scherman, through his book, seems to contend that men are more honest than the government. It seems however, that Scherman overlooks the fact that most governments have been established by some Moses, or some far-seeing individuals who recognize the necessity of dependability and honesty and these individuals establish a code of ethics, Ten Commandments, a Bill of Rights, a Constitution that forces individuals in a degree to carry out their contracts.

It is doubtful whether the individuals as a whole are any more honest than the government but, inasmuch as most all progress has come, as stated above, by some far-seeing individuals establishing principles, individual citizens are penalized if they do not follow the code of ethics established by the government. This accounts possibly for the discrepancy between honesty of the individuals as a whole and the honesty of the government.

Eventually the governments are obliged to yield to the morals and lack of respect in rights of property of the great mass of people. This causes the government eventually to crumble until such time as a new constitution or a new bill of rights by some far-seeing leader is established.

Other items that meant higher costs. The guild's chain negotiators appear to have the idea that a losing unit should not be budgeted so far as they are concerned; if a loser can't pay the guild check, why not borrow the difference from a profitable paper?

No doubt that used to be done. Many a weak sister has been supported from a central or allied source for years after it had failed to stand on its own feet. It won't be done much longer. Demands by labor for increased pay, often justified from the worker's point of view; taxes that are inescapable; higher material costs—all unite to compel the elimination of unnecessary drains upon profitable operations. Under present income conditions, a generally profitable paper is fortunate to break even after meeting all demands; it is not likely to have a surplus with which to feed allied units which show no prospects of solvency.

There is no law which can compel a publisher to throw good money after bad.

THE TVA AND THE UNIVERSITIES

Chicago Tribune
The congressional investigation of TVA has now brought out the fact that seven state universities have received subsidies approximating $1,700,000 from this agency. The money is supposed to have been spent for scientific demonstrations of one sort or another.

We seem to recall that a number of years ago the so-called power trust was bitterly attacked for subsidizing a number of demonstrations in various schools and universities. This was regarded as reprehensible when done by private citizens with their own money, but apparently is above reproach when done by a government supported power company with the taxpayers' money. The money the power the TVA contributes is called a bribe. The money the power companies were called a bribe. The money the power companies were called a bribe. The money the power companies were called a bribe.

Every time the investigators open up a new aspect of TVA something queer is discovered. Enormous sums have been spent in ways and for objects which seem far from the original purpose of the so-called experiment. The more that is revealed the more puzzled the taxpayers become.

These Boys Ought to Get Together

General Hugh S. JOHNSON SAYS

BETHANY BEACH, Del.—Recently, the other day, I became 56-years old. Among the simple surprise gifts that came to console me was a big beautiful "garrison" flag with this note: "Dear Hughie: This flag is for your birthday remembrance. It always seems to me to wave a cheerful greeting and thanksgiving to the Lord for the best land and government this world has ever found yet. With love, Mom." (My mother.)

She reminded me that just 30 years earlier, when my father was living, the present had been a good Bible. The note on the fly-leaf says: "Dear Hughie: Your mother and I send you this Bible. We commend it to you as the very best thing we could give you. We believe that it is the word of God to man written by his inspired servants—that it contains the wisdom of ages and all the rules and thinking that are needed for a decent life. We feel that you believe this and that you will wish your little son to know that this book is the best lamp and guide for his footsteps throughout his life. Affectionately, S. L. J. (My father.)

"Oh yeah! Here we have it all—Bible, mother, home and flag. You forgot the Constitution among this reactionary stable of sacred cows." Nobody has the crust to say just that, but something like that is the unspoken attitude among many of the new thinkers who are out to reform the world.

It is accepted doctrine along much of the "popular front" that religion should be soft-pedaled or destroyed as a kind of dreamy underpinning that has tended to make the "underprivileged" suffer their misfortunes with meekness rather than to rise in wrath.

In our own country there has been no such attack on religion, but some of the sentiments in my mother's flag note are not popular among our intelligentsia—"this is the best land and government yet." No sir! Both land and government have got to be taken apart and put together again on a new pattern and only the new planners can do it. As for the Constitution, it is all right only if interpreted not to mean much of anything or to mean whatever they want it to mean.

In all such arguments there is something on both sides. In some places and times, religion has been used to suppress needed reforms. No "land or government" is perfect or above needed criticism and improvement. Surely our system needed change in 1932. But this doesn't mean that we should cast off or even loosen all old moorings.

The lady who wrote the flag note is 84 years old. As a girl she married a poor man and went to Kansas in 1882. There and in pioneer Oklahoma, she bore and reared her children in poverty and primitive conditions in comparison with which the present standards of living of the lowest income classes are luxury. Her joint work and self-denial far beyond what today's reformers say should be permitted, educated those children in college and earned for their own old age not wealth, but just enough to keep out hunger, thirst and cold.

Register Clearing House

"It is for each to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and add his unit of influence to all other units of influence, and let the results work themselves out."—Spencer. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.

Fellow Citizens:

After trying to digest Mr. Rockwell's August 3rd Clearing House letter, I'm still convinced that if Dr. Townsend is as interested in suffering humanity as Mr. Rockwell believes, he would have stuck to his line. The millions slowly dying from incurable cancer are calling just as loudly to him as those suffering from economic cancer. Why did he turn his back on one unfinished job to tackle another?

The Master had something to say to such people. Here it is: Matt. 7:5, "Thou hypocrite, first cast the beam out of thine own eye; and then thou shalt see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye."

Even granting the economists have failed to pull us back on our feet, it is doubtful whether a people, who have been dosing economic patent medicines for five years, would stand for a real cure. It would look too much like hard work and self-denial.

Dr. Townsend ought to know from his medical experience, that the remedy he had to prescribe, was often the very medicine the patient did not want to take. The patient is too fond of sugar coated pills, and that is exactly what the Townsend plan, and every other pension plan reminds me of, just sugar coated pills.

I am convinced also, that the doctor was a square shooter in the medical profession. If he had given sugar coated pills to his patients, his practice would have been so big, no pension plan would ever have heard of him. He would have been too busy.

A man who advocates our paying the pension, and then stopping all trade with countries whose people did not come up to our living standards, is painfully ignorant in economics, and knows very little about human nature. If we tried that every country in the world would be on our necks; and then lot of good our pension plans would do us.

Maybe I'm picking the hard way to get back to normalcy and prosperity, but I believe He who said: "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat thy bread," till thou return unto the ground" was wiser than Dr. Townsend, even though a few sugar coated pills might taste good.

PAUL C. PHILLIPS.

than our modern "underprivileged." They not only saw the building from its beginnings of the Southwest country, but they materially helped to build it on the principles of those two notes. They both thought that the Bible contained "all the rules and thinking that are needed for a decent life" and my mother still religiously believes that this is the "best land and government this world has ever found yet."

Maybe that is all "horse and buggy" stuff. Maybe it has been used too much as political flapdoodle. But in this faith we became great and if, in all our change, we don't stick to the essence of it, we are headed straight for the rocks on which have been wrecked one European democracy after another.

HUGH S. JOHNSON.

Fellow Citizens:

California Pension Plan vs. Townsend Plan. Both of these "plans" cannot win this year in California. It is the opinion of the writer that the California Pension Plan has a better chance of being "put over," since it has a much easier "hurdle" to negotiate than the Townsend movement—120 dollars per month, as against 200 dollars, and further, it has a sufficiency of good, sensible, working principles, that should make it attractive to those wishing to see the persons of 50 years, and beyond, taken care of on a scale of the "American Standard of Living." A half loaf is better than none; in this case it would be more than half.

The present status of the "movements" is quite like the political campaign of 1916; the Republicans had Hughes for leader; the Progressives backed up Teddy Roosevelt.

Of course this only—and simply—made it a walk away for Woodrow Wilson. He came with an air of abandon down through the gauntlet of de-horned, but fierce looking opponents; Republicans lined up on one side; Progressives on the other.

Both lines had their bows and quivers, with a few wobbly arrows, but there was not found one goodly-barbed spear in either outfit, to give the effective thrust needed.

So Woodrow sauntered on 'till he reached the White House steps, then figuratively, turned about and thumbed his nose toward those "valiant warriors."

What has this campaign stuff to do with the California Pension Plan? Only this, that if the two or more lines of signers (voters) were all combined under one leadership what happened to the Republicans and Progressives would not be their fate; they could put their plan across.

And who, do you ask, is going to thumb their noses at the Cal. Pen. Plan "go over."

The writer has been informed the younger set are against this "Plan." But why, since the clearing away of a numerous number now holding jobs—of one sort or another—would open a real, and not fanciful, vista for them?

Colleges, universities, newspapers, etc., have for years been asking the question: "What is to become of our young folks; growing up into manhood a womanhood?" Time is now "hitting-only-the-high-spots" (railroad expression, meaning a swift moving train is hitting only the highest parts of an uneven track). And it will soon reach the point where you are to make an X in the yes square of the ballot.

This is an invitation to all interested in the welfare of needy Californians to give the Cal. Pen. Plan an overwhelming boost; that on election day it will become a fact.

THE 75TH CONGRESS AND LABOR

By ERIK MCKINLEY ERIKSSON
Professor of History, University of Southern California

A survey of the record of the 75th Congress reveals some important and interesting actions in relation to labor. Public attention has been so largely concentrated on the so-called Fair Labor Standards Act, providing for the regulation of hours, wages and child labor, that the other measures enacted have been scarcely noticed.

Not least important of the new laws affecting labor is that which sets up a separate unemployment insurance system for employees of railroads. Hitherto, unemployment insurance for such employees was administered under the National Social Security Act of 1935 and under the laws of the individual states.

Under the new setup, to be administered by the Railroad Retirement Board, railroad workers will be entitled to considerably more unemployment compensation than workers in other fields. Why the employers of railroads should be entitled to preferential treatment in this matter as well as in relation to retirement annuities is not clear. Would it not be wiser and fairer for the government to treat all classes of employees equally in the promotion of social security? Class favoritism promoted by the federal government does not square with the American ideal of fair play.

Another potentially important measure passed by the recently adjourned Congress is the amendment to the 1936 Merchant Marine Act providing for the creation of a Maritime Labor Board. In view of the chaotic conditions which have characterized maritime labor circles, there was need for an agency comparable to the Railroad Labor Board. This Board and the special mediation boards created to deal with specific disputes have been notably successful in stabilizing labor relations in the field of railroad transportation.

There is little prospect that the new Maritime Labor Board will enjoy similar success for its function.

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Two no decision until he could confer with Admiral Land, but he kept this news off the record, despite the protests of newsmen who threatened to publish the information, although finally they refrained.

General impression here is the government plans will be abandoned.

The national economic committee (anti-monopoly) is going after the oil people. Inner arrangements have been made for William J. Kemtzer, occasional technical adviser to both state and federal governments, to prepare the committee study. He recently completed a book on the subject.

Those in touch with what is going on believe the study may sponsor a revival of the Gillette bill to divorce, producing, refining, and marketing of the industry, a senate sub-committee hearing was held on the bill last session but it got nowhere.

Heads of the leading commodity exchanges have gotten together with the government (by request) to clean out commodity tipsters. The tipsters have been working since the government thinks is a sure-fire racket.

A typical tipster, for instance, may get someone to let him handle $500 in wheat market speculations. Then the tipster will buy September wheat and sell December. If the market goes up or down he makes a profit on one and a loss on the other transaction. However, he advises his sucker only of the profitable transactions until he gets the sucker to put up more money. In the end, the investor winds up with a big series of profits—and a net loss.

Exchange heads were called in by the commodity exchange administration, without announcement a few days back, and agreed to "enforce their regulations against such practices more rigidly." They can break it up by enforcing their regulations against split commissions, the only means through which tipsters can operate.

The only thing that now remains for the government and exchange heads to do is to provide as asylum for such gullible folk as will allow others to speculate with their money.

Government regulation of fools may come yet.
